To Whom It May Concern,

My wife and I are writing to express our strong support for RCC. We live in Mount Pleasant at 2021 Klingle Rd with our four-month-old daughter and two dogs, and we are excited about the possibility of a gathering space like this so close to home. We plan to walk there.

As new parents, we want our daughter to grow up with a strong connection to both her community and the outdoors. We value places where neighbors can get to know one another, families can spend time together, and being active in nature is part of everyday life. Too often, we feel we have to leave the city to find spaces that bring all of those things together.

We have been longing for a "third space" beyond home and work where we can spend time with other families and neighbors without needing a special occasion. RCC could be that place: somewhere to meet friends, make new connections, enjoy the outdoors, have large family-style meals and feel more rooted in our neighborhood.

What excites us most is the prospect of having this right in our backyard—a welcoming space where anyone can join in and be active, social, and in nature with friends and family. We see it as an opportunity to strengthen the connections that make Mount Pleasant such a special place to live.

We enthusiastically support RCC and look forward to the role it could play in our family's life and in the broader community.

Sincerely,
Tristan and Meg Cotter
