

April MacIntyre
1900 F St., NW
Thurston-824
Washington, DC 20052

January 21, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number ~~09-19~~ 06-11A / 06-12A

Dear Mr. Chairman,

My name is April MacIntyre and I am a freshman at the George Washington University for International Affairs and Anthropology. As a student who is greatly interested in the developmental affairs of the university, I would like to pledge my support to the progress of the Square 103/ Law Learning Center Garage as a key component in keeping the commitments of the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan.

The development of Square 103 will not only be a suitable expansion to academic space for the Law Center, but also an attractive addition to the campus. The green area that will be added as park space will serve to open up more of the university grounds to students, making the locality around G Street versatile and multifunctional. Another noteworthy aspect of this project support of the historical preservation plan of the neighborhood.

I would like to thank you for taking the time to read this letter and recognizing my support. I look forward to the Square 103/ Law Learning Center Garage project moving ahead in its development.

Much appreciation,

April MacIntyre
B.A. Candidate – International Affairs and Anthropology, Class of 2014
The George Washington University
Intern- The Greater Washington Urban League

ZONING COMMISSION
District of Columbia

CASE NO. 06-11A / 06-12A

EXHIBIT NO. 28
ZONING COMMISSION
District of Columbia
CASE NO. 06-11A/06-12A
EXHIBIT NO. 28

Caitlyn Wisser
2135 F St., NW
The George Washington University
South Hall, Room 507
Washington, DC 20037

January 28, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 2015
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Esteemed Chairman Hood:

Chairman Hood, my name is Caitlyn Wisser and I am a senior at The George Washington University (GWU), double majoring in International Affairs and Middle Eastern Studies, with a minor in History. Having been a student at GWU for the past four years, I have been privy to the entire process of the building and implementation of Square 54, and have also been party to the campaign and approval process of the new West Hall on the Mount Vernon Campus of GWU. This includes, but is not limited to, the hearings for the other improvements that will be made to Mount Vernon, and the campaign process for the new Science and Engineering Complex and the new garage under the Law Learning Center on Foggy Bottom.

This leads me to the crux of my letter, asking you and the rest of your committee to approve the plans and building permits for this Law Learning Center garage that will be constructed along G Street, between 21st and 20th streets. This garage is very important to the student body of GWU, as it is imperative that these parking spaces be built in order to allow for the building of the Science and Engineering Complex (SEC). The SEC is of great value to myself, as an undergraduate student, as this center will improve the research capabilities of GWU and will give my university greater prestige in the years to come. As this prestige increases, the value of my degree increases, and, as such, I will have many more job opportunities at my disposal. Not only will the Law Learning Center garage allow the university to meet its parking space quota, it also will allow the university to meet the sustainability requirements, as they were laid out in the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan. Not only do I believe that the university should be bound by these requirements, sustainability itself is of great importance to me. I strongly believe that environmental issues are one of the biggest problems facing the United States, and the greater world, today. As such, any little bit that people or corporations, or universities, can do leads toward a better and safer world. Some of these sustainability efforts include, but are not limited to, capturing all site stormwater runoff, improving energy performance, dedicated parking spaces and charging stations for electric cars, and reducing construction waste by 75%. These are very good efforts that GWU is committed to, and as such, should be considered when decided whether or not to approve the plans to build this parking garage.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter. I appreciate your dedicated focus and commitment to ensuring that Foggy Bottom and The George Washington University have the best and most advantageous relationship, and that you will strongly consider approving the creation of the Law Learning Center garage. It will not only help me as a student of GWU, it will also be a step in the right direction regarding the situation of our planet and environmental issues. Again, I thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Caitlyn Wisser". The signature is fluid and includes a long horizontal flourish at the end.

Caitlyn Wisser

Christopher Rotella
1499 Massachusetts Ave. NW #110
Washington, DC 20005

January 28th 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Hood:

As a current George Washington University graduate student and a member of the Foggy Bottom professional community, I fully support the plans to develop square 103 into a multi-use below grade parking garage. Currently the space in questions is empty with no buildings generating any income for the university or for the city.

This project would provide nearly 400 parking spaces for students, faculty, and staff that would otherwise be forced to use hard to find street parking in an already congested area.

Most importantly this project perfect fits within GWU's goals of growing up and centralizing their development to the core of campus, instead of in the more residential areas of Foggy Bottom. The location of this multi-use lot would be far removed the private homes of West End and from most apartment buildings in Foggy Bottom, minimizing the impact on residential traffic patterns. The building would also meet all of GWU's sustainability goals and would obtain a silver (or higher) LEED certification.

There is no reason to oppose this project, which will fill the parking void, in the best way possible, while also being environmentally and visually friendly. It benefits the community, the city, and the students/faculty/staff of GWU and for all those reasons I fully support the project and hope the Zoning Commission will as well. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Chris Rotella', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Christopher Rotella
The George Washington University, BA' 2008, MBA '2012

Julie Bindelglass
South Hall, Room 805
2135 F St. N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20052

February 2, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

As a senior and the immediate past president of the Student Association of the George Washington University I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

Located in the 2000 block of G Street N.W., the Law Learning Center Garage will allow the Law School within the spirit of the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan. The George Washington University School of Law benefits the entire community through their public service, and zoning approval for this project is recognition of this fact. The project's additional benefits include increasing the visual appeal of campus and the surrounding community and adding sustainable measures to the area through storm water capture and bike storage. For these reasons, I support the development of the Law Learning Center Garage and ask you to as well.

Thank you for your consideration of this project and I appreciate your support.

All the best,

Julie Bindelglass

Leni Dworkis
950 24th Street NW, City Hall 1103
Washington, DC 20052

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, Dc 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

In Support of the Law Learning Center

The George Washington University prides itself in an aesthetically pleasing and efficient campus structure, with which the proposed Law Learning Center would follow suit. The building of the Law Learning Center will be efficient in its creating of necessary additional parking spaces. The landscape around the entry will meet both the criteria of visually appealing and efficient in providing students and faculty with a new, fresh lawn to serve as a gathering place of faculty, staff, students, and visitors to the campus. The building design's sustainability is proficient and innovating, which in turn will be cost effective for the university. The university's desire to "grow up, not out" is completely recognized in the plan for the Law Learning Center. It is the job of a university to stay modern, innovating, efficient, and be a visually appealing place where students, staff, and others can gather. The Law Learning Center completes all those tasks, while at the same time does not require an expansion on campus. The Law Learning Center would be a pleasant addition to campus and permission to build this structure should be granted.

Sincerely,

Leni Dworkis

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Leni Dworkis', written over a horizontal line.

Geoffrey Sokolowski
600 20th Street NW, #712
Washington, DC 20052

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

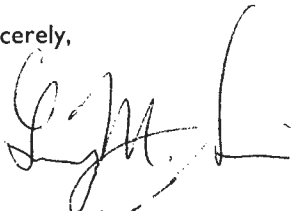

Chairman Hood:

My name is Geoffrey Sokolowski, and I'm a junior in the Elliott School at the George Washington University. I am writing to express my support for the George Washington University Law School's Learning Center accompanied by an underground parking garage at Square 103.

As a current undergraduate student at the George Washington University, I recognize that the university's space is often limited in many ways. Giving the Law School an opportunity to expand their educational facilities into what is currently a parking lot is a great use of space. In addition to using space most effectively, I believe allowing the university to add a parking garage will serve many purposes. The current GW parking garage, while necessary, is an eyesore in the middle of campus. From a non-aesthetic perspective, however, I do recognize the need to have parking. By building a below-grade parking structure, the university will be able to maintain a large parking garage in Foggy Bottom, while simultaneously increasing the density of both the campus and the city. In addition, the new parking facilities will prioritize electric vehicles by adding charging stations, a major upgrade from current university facilities. Finally, the construction plans call for a major recycling effort to reduce construction waste. To me, the project appears as a win-win situation for both the city and the university. By adding additional academic space, the Law School has an opportunity to increase its prestige and bring more students to the city of Washington. This could benefit the city by drawing more talented workers into the area and potentially driving the local economy in the long term.

I really appreciate you taking the time to read this letter, and I urge you to vote in favor of this project. I hope you'll consider my opinion and that of other residents and students in the city.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'G. Sokolowski', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Geoffrey Sokolowski
Junior, The George Washington University

Hugh Moren
1900 F St. NW
Thurston 310
Washington, DC 20052

1/27/2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St. NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

RE: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

My name is Hugh Moren and I am a student at the George Washington University in the Elliot School of International Affairs. As someone with a deep concern for the future development of GW and the neighborhood of Foggy Bottom, I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

The Law Learning Center Garage is an integral part of the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan as well as part of GW's commitment to "Grow Up, Not Out." It will provide the school with additional underground parking that will be necessary with the future construction of the proposed Science and Engineering Complex on Square 55. The project will provide an attractive and sustainable improvement to the campus and surrounding streetscape until the future above-grade portion of this project is developed. Moreover, the Law Learning Center Garage will introduce a number of new eco-friendly and efficient features that reinforce GW's commitment to environmental sustainability. These include: capturing all site stormwater runoff, dedicating parking spaces with charging spaces for electric cars, and landscaping that will include usable green spaces.

Thank you for taking the time to read my correspondence. This is a very important issue for me and I look forward to the Square 103 / Law Learning Center Garage project to move forward in development in the near future.

Best Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Hugh Moren". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Hugh Moren

Julia Simon
2223 H Street, NW #805
Washington, DC 20052

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Hood,

I am a sophomore at the George Washington University studying International Affairs. GW is a great place and I thoroughly enjoy being a student here, especially on the Foggy Bottom campus. This is why I am writing to support the development of the Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103.

Completing the work on Square 103 will set a great precedent for other much needed projects in the area, in light of the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan. The project has numerous benefits including increased academic space, increased parking space and increased green space. All three of these things are necessary for a thriving campus in a thriving city. Faculty, students and DC residents alike will be able to take advantage of these new spaces. In addition, the Square 103 development would be an excellent manifestation of GW's "grow up, not out" policy, in a strong effort to live and learn sustainably. Square 103 would also fit with the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan, which required additional underground parking spaces as not to take up aboveground spaces that could be used for academic purposes. Sustainability is a large part of GW's commitment to maintaining a healthy community, and Square 103 would certainly be constructed using sustainable practices. Providing green space for the campus and recycling 75% of construction waste are merely two of the ways in which this project will be sustainable. Developing Square 103 is a great way to improve the university and the environment.

Thank you very much for your time. I hope you will strongly consider the many benefits Square 103 will bring. I would love to see the Law Learning Center Garage be a success story.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Julia Simon". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

Richard Livingstone
The George Washington University
616 23rd St. NW
Ivory Tower Room #409
Washington, DC 20052

January 24, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St. NW, Suite 210S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number

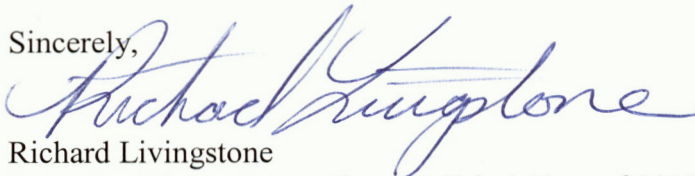

Dear Chairman Hood:

In the January 2011 Issue of the Chronicle on Higher Education, Senior Reporter for Money and Management Scott Carlson, applauded Roosevelt University in Chicago, IL for "Growing Where the Space is Up." The University is in the process of constructing a 32-story, $129-million tower to include student services and student-life facilities for the college of business. This building, along with the Cathedral of Learning on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh as well as other spaces on New York University and Berklee College of Music's campuses are being heralded for their innovative use of space.

The George Washington University embraces this same type of development strategy as a "landlocked" urban institution, to borrow a term from Political Geography. The Underground Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103 does just that. Where the University once maintained a tiny residence hall, some above ground parking, and a few Greek town-houses, the University plans to build 392 parking spaces below ground, 58 additional parking spaces above ground, and add sustainable features to an otherwise unsustainable area.

In identifying university needs and utilizing underused spaces to fulfill those needs, the University has sought to develop Square 103. As a junior majoring in International Affairs, it is this "Grow Up, Not Out" mentality that provides me the state-of-the-art academic and residential space in which to seek the best 21st century education in the heart of our nation's capital.

Sincerely,

Richard Livingstone
B.A. Candidate – International Affairs, Class of 2012
The George Washington University
rliving@gwmail.gwu.edu

Winslow Sheffield
2100 Foxhall Rd, NW, #215
Washington, DC 20007

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St, NW, Suite 2015
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Hood,

I am writing in support of the proposed Law Learning Center Garage located on Square 103. As a student in GW's School of Engineering and Applied Sciences this project might appear not to be of any significance to me, but it is.

The LLC Garage will create 392 new parking spaces, allowing for the demolition of the current university parking garage and subsequent construction of the Science and Engineering Complex, a project that will not only benefit engineering students like myself, but will also increase the reputation of GW as a whole. Additionally the Garage will be built in an environmentally friendly manner, with a target of LEED Silver certification. Among its many sustainable features are included charging ports for electric vehicles and a storm-water collection system which will greatly benefit the entire area.

Hopefully this information will prove useful in your consideration of the project. It will be beneficial to the entire Foggy Bottom community and I hope you will choose to move the project along.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Winslow Sheffield". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Winslow Sheffield

Jenna Curtis
2124 I St. NW
West End 310
Washington, DC 20052

Date: January 27th, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Hood,

I am writing to you regarding the proposed Law Learning Center at The George Washington University. This development will be a valuable addition to the campus and help the university to maintain its commitments to both the community and the environment.

The new Law Learning Center will not only be beneficial to the growing prestige of GWU's Law School, but will also contribute to improving the lives of all students at the university. The addition of green space – utilizing native plants and local materials – will help to improve the beauty and aesthetic of the campus. Without a doubt the contemporary glass architecture and colorful shrubbery will be an improvement from the barren parking lots and abandoned townhouses which were previously on the site. Students will be able to use this new space to study and relax outdoors, while the entire Foggy Bottom Community will gain from the beautifying addition of trees, grass, flowering shrubs, etc. Furthermore, this green space will help GWU to maintain its commitment to environmental sustainability. By collecting runoff for re-use, reducing their carbon footprint through the addition of trees, and reducing heat-producing pavement in favor of cool, green grass, GWU will be counteracting many of the harmful effects of urbanization.

In summary, the new Law Learning Center will be a new, green "gem" on GWU's campus. All students and community members will benefit from reduced street parking, increased green space, and improved sustainability. The addition of trees, grass, and plants will bring some much-needed natural beauty to the area. Overall, the Law Learning Center's attributes will be appreciable by every person – be they student or Foggy Bottom resident.

Sincerely,

Jenna Curtis
Class of 2011

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'Jenna Curtis', is written over a light blue horizontal line.

Leah Thornton
2212 I St. NW Washington, DC 20052
Munson Hall #802

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Leah and currently I am a sophomore at the George Washington University, studying Political Science in the Columbian School of Arts and Sciences, and I want to express my support for the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103 on our Foggy Bottom Campus.

I have lived across the construction in Square 54 for the 2010-2011 school year, and consequentially, I am excited about seeing the results of all the work being done on campus currently. I am in support of the Law Learning Center Garage for Square 103 because this project would pave the way for future eco-friendly developments on campus. In the past years, GWU has been committed to encouraging and producing 'Green' projects. The Law Learning Center Garage would usher in further improvements on campus in regards to its image and sustainability; it would stimulate other projects to improve the GWU campus. For example, the three GWU townhouses located at 20th and G Streets will be renovated in accordance with the recent 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan's Historic Preservation Plan. The change and progress made in this section of the GWU campus would go a long way towards paving a path for future sustainability efforts.

Thank you for your time, and I hope you will seriously consider this project.

Sincerely,

Leah C. Thornton

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Leah C. Thornton', with a long, sweeping horizontal line extending to the right.

Jason Cherchia
950 25th Street NW
Apartment 814N
Washington, DC 20037

January 23, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

As a recent graduate of The George Washington University, I fully support the construction of a new parking facility on the University's Foggy Bottom Campus. I also have a plethora of experience with the University's campus plans, and I believe that a new parking structure is necessary in order to achieve the goals set for in the plans.

As I am sure you are aware, one of the University's commitments to the District of Columbia as part of the campus plans is its agreement to maintain an adequate number of parking spaces. With the anticipated demolition of the University's existing parking garage to make way for a new Science and Engineering Complex, there will be a need for the creation of additional parking in order for the University to meet its space quota. Thus, the construction of the new parking facility is necessary so that the University may keep its commitment to the city. In order to proceed with the new Science and Engineering Complex, the new parking structure must be approved.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jason Cherchia", with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Jason Cherchia,
B.A. '11, Political Science
The George Washington University

Monica Mehta
2021 F St NW
Potomac House Rm 412
Washington, DC 20052

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

My name is Monica Mehta and I am a current freshman attending The George Washington University. I am a member of the 7-year Accelerated BA/MD Program at GW, in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences. I would like to pledge my support of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103.

As part of the "Grow Up, Not Out" strategy, this project helps to concentrate density at the central core of the campus. Not only will it provide increased below grade academic and administrative space for the GW Law School, but it will also provide a number of surface improvements. For example, the landscape around the entry plaza will provide an open lawn area to serve as a gathering place for students, faculty, staff, and visitors.

What I like most about the Law Learning Center Garage, however, is its numerous sustainable features. This project will further GW's commitment to the use of innovative sustainable design practices. It incorporates measures such as capturing all site storm water runoff, improving energy performance, and reducing construction waste by 75% through recycling or salvaging materials.

I will be living in the Foggy Bottom area for six more years as I complete my undergraduate and graduate study, so I look forward to seeing this project move ahead.

Sincerely,

Monica Mehta

Samantha A. McGovern
5597 Seminary Road apt 617S
Falls Church, VA 22041

January 21st, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman,

As a two time alumna of the George Washington University I feel that its' continued growth is not only vital to the current student body, but also to those of us who have long since come and gone. Without continued improvements to facilities, grounds and faculty the status of the university would ultimately decrease leaving me with less a degrees worth less then what I had expected.

With that in mind I would like to voice my support for the Law Learning Center Garage. This project in the immediate future will help to decentralize parking and provide an interim green space for students to enjoy. But more importantly in the long term it will allow for the university to focus on critical projects such as the Science and Engineering Complex.

I look forward to coming back to the GW and seeing it changed for the better. Thank you in advance for your time and considering of this project.

Regards,

Samantha A. McGovern
BA 2005 / MPS 2010

Kathleen Casey
2124 Eye Street NW
Room 808
Washington, DC 20052

January 26, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning
Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case
Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

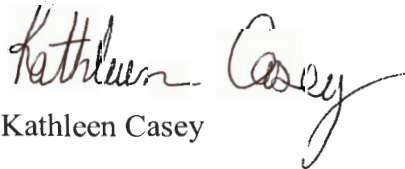

My name is Kathleen Casey, and I am a student attending The George Washington University. As a student at The George Washington, I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

The Law Learning Center below ground space will provide increased academic and administrative space for the GW Law School. This will allow GW Law School to attract the most well qualified candidates and professors to increase the prestige of the school.

This project also has the added benefit of advancing GW's commitment to the use of innovative sustainable design practices and will exceed GW's campus commitment and target a Silver Rating in the USGBC's LEED 2009 for New Construction Rating System.

I look forward to seeing this project move ahead.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Casey

Katie Lewis
2124 I St. NW
Washington, DC 20052

1/26/11

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Katie Lewis and as a Sophomore History major at the George Washington University, I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

As an environmentally conscientious student, I'm particularly excited about the eco-friendly aspects of the project. Specifically, the LLC will capture all site storm water runoff and provide campus with more green space. While I love attending a city school, more green space is always very much appreciated. The project also promises to provide increased bike storage. This is enormously helpful, as I've heard stories from friends that have been late for class because they've had difficulty finding a place to lock their bike. Should I ever move off campus, I would be taking full advantage of this as well.

Once again, I urge you to support the development of Square 103 and I look forward to seeing the project move ahead. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Kaitlin Lewis". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the "Sincerely," text.

Kaitlin Lewis

Austin Frizzell
2124 Eye St, NW Unit 302
Washington, DC 20052

28 January 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Hood,

The George Washington University prides itself on being an integral part of the larger community of Washington DC and the proposed Law Learning Center on Square 103 has great potential to continue this involvement. This addition to the campus promises to not only reflect the needs of the university, but also of the Foggy Bottom neighborhood and all individuals in the city.

By pursuing the "Growing Up (or Down), Not Out," development strategy for the university, the Law Learning Center will simultaneously preserve the existing community of Foggy Bottom and create new green space for all to enjoy. The University will become a more attractive environment for everyone and provide a better environment for law students. Additionally, the Law Learning Center will feature a variety of cutting-edge sustainable technology systems that will help the university, and the District, lead the way toward a better tomorrow.

I humbly request that you give the Law Learning Center on Square 103 your full support as it has potential benefits for some many.

Sincerely,

Austin Frizzell
GWU Class of 2013

Colbi Furman
The George Washington University
Madison #209
736 22nd Street NW
Washington, DC 20052

January 24, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Colbi Furman, and I am a student at The George Washington University in support of the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

I support GWU's "Grow Up, Not Out" strategy, which concentrates density at the central core of the campus. The Garage is an attractive and sustainable improvement to the campus and surrounding streetscape. Some of the project's sustainable features include its ability to capture all site storm water runoff and its reduction of construction waste by 75% by recycling or salvaging materials.

I appreciate your support for this project and look forward to seeing it move ahead.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Colbi Furman". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Colbi Furman

Summer Newman
1959 E Street NW, Suite 804
Washington DC, 20052

January 24, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street NW, Suite 201S
Washington DC, 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

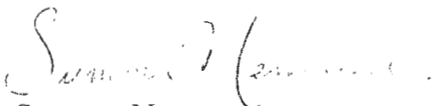

My name is Summer Newman, and I am a Junior studying Geography at The George Washington University. I am writing to you to express my support for the approval of the Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103.

Last year I transferred to GW, and since I've been here I've fallen in love with the progress of the campus. I've enjoyed learning about future projects that will continue to shape the landscape and the direction of the university. I am excited about the fact that GW is looking to move much of its parking below grade, in turn beautifying the campus as unsightly parking structures will be removed.

I know that this project will have ripple effects across the GW community, from the commuters who wait in line simply to enter a single large parking garage, to the Law School students and administrators who will gain some much needed square footage, and to the GW Undergrad population who will have use of the covered bike storage and interim open green space to study and relax.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter, and I look forward to seeing this project move forward.

Regards,

Summer Newman

BA Candidate – Columbian College of Arts & Science, Class of 2012

Brett Troisi
The George Washington University
2222 I. St. NW
JBKO Hall Room #808
Washington, DC 20052

January 26, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St. NW, Suite 210S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Hood:

As a junior majoring in International Business I made the conscious choice to attend the largely urban George Washington University Foggy Bottom Campus. For me this meant a state of the art Business School facility, close to campus internships, and world-renowned faculty. More often than not, this didn't mean rolling hills, grassy knolls, or warm outside places to study. As a native of Arizona this wasn't that important to me but would have been nice nonetheless.

Since I started at GW three years ago I have noticed this dynamic change. The University created an Office of Sustainability, developed an unused parking lot on Square 80, and planted trees after the devastating snow that fell in February of last year. The proposed development of Square 103 is no exception to this newfound change. After the development of the underground parking garage the site will house an attractive and sustainable law area to serve as a gathering place for students like myself.

Even as the university plans to construct the aboveground building at a future date, I trust it will contain the same sustainable features I find beneficial whether it be on a grassy lawn or in a state of the art academic facility. The belowground structure as well comes with an impressive resume of sustainable features. I am most excited to hear about the planned dedicated parking spaces with charging stations for electric cars that we heard the President speak about last night in his State of the Union address. It is the sustainable features of the underground facility, the temporary grass knoll, and the green elements of the future planned aboveground structure that I offer my full support for this project.

Sincerely,

Brett Troisi
B.A. Candidate – International Business – Class of 2012
btroisi@gwmail.gwu.edu

Arjun Awasthi
West Hall,
Mount Vernon Campus #321
Washington, DC 20007

March 10, 2010

District of Columbia Zoning
Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case
Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

My name is Arjun Awasthi and I am a student attending The George Washington University. I want to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage. I believe that this will be a great project for the community, as I am an Environmental Studies major and according to the building plan this parking garage will be built sustainably and with a beautiful garden to beautify the surroundings. The project will target a Silver Rating in the USGBC's LEED 2009 for New Construction Rating System by incorporating a number of measures including - capturing all site storm water runoff, improving energy performance, and increased covered bike storage will be provided on site and reducing construction waste by 75% by recycling or salvaging materials. All of these features are very appealing to me as a student and will be very helpful for the general health and quality of life for the DC community.

Sincerely

Arjun Awasthi
B.A. candidate Environmental Studies, Psychology, Biology (minor)
George Washington University

Zixiang Chen
2119 H Street, NW
Crawford Hall, Room 108
Washington, DC 20052

1/25/2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear District of Columbia Zoning Commission

I am writing to you today as not only a student of The George Washington University, but also a soon-to-be permanent resident of Foggy Bottom. I write to you concerning the construction of the Law Learning Center on Square 103.

As a student, I believe that building the Law Learning Center on Square 103 will have many benefits for my university and the city. The more efficient use of land will enable more parking spaces provide a lawn area gathering place for members of the university and visitors. Additionally, this follows in accordance with the university's "Grow Up, Not Out" plan, which advocates for structures to build upwards, thus conserving District land use. Additionally, the building aims for a Silver Rating in the USGBC's LEED certification, thus making the university, and ultimately the District of Columbia, more sustainable.

I strongly encourage you to approve this project. It is undoubtedly a great benefit for the university and the District of Columbia. Thank you for taking the time to read this letter.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Zixiang Chen", is written over a light yellow rectangular background.

Zixiang Chen

Gary Wong
1959 E Street, N.W.
Room #905
Washington, DC 20052

January 27th, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

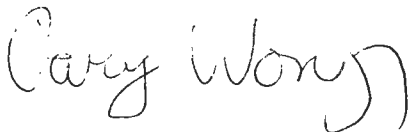

My name is Gary Wong, and I am student attending The George Washington University. As a student at GWU, I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

The Law Learning Center Garage will provide GWU Law students with a multitude of benefits for the upcoming academic years. In addition to providing GW Colonials and faculty with extensive parking space, the Center will significantly improve sustainability on campus by capturing site stormwater runoff, improving energy performance, and utilizing recyclable materials for construction. Thus, the Center enhances GW's commitment to sustainability and will benefit the greater DC community.

Thank you for your time and consideration, and I appreciate your support for this project.

Best,

- Gary Wong

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Gary Wong". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the typed name.

William Rone
730 24th St NW Apt 217
Washington, DC 20037

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

RE: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

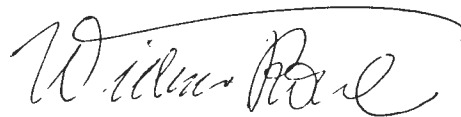

I am writing to you today as both a resident of the District of Columbia and a student of The George Washington University in support of the Law Learning Center Parking Garage.

While I do support the overall mission of this project to enhance the facilities associated with GW Law School through the additional academic and administrative space, my support for this project stems from my passion for another: the creation of a Science and Engineering Complex at the site of the current University Parking Garage. A key facet of the University's current Campus Plan (with good reason) is the parking space requirement imposed on the University. By allowing the construction of this underground parking facility, it allows for another step to be taken toward tearing down the outmoded above ground parking eyesore I walk past every day and replace it the currently proposed state of the art facility, with five levels of parking underground (where it belongs).

Furthermore, as someone who has live on both the north and south sides of campus, the capacity for this garage to pull traffic and congestion from the 22nd/23rd/H/Eye Streets area toward 20th/21st/H Streets area would reduce several recurring issues, particularly in the morning and evening rush hours, where traffic on all four streets has been known to back up.

In summation, I would like thank you for your time and consideration, and I look forward to seeing progress made on the University's proposal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "William Rone", with a long horizontal flourish extending from the end of the name.

William Rone

Chiara Scarpelli
1900 F St, NW
Room 401
Washington, DC 20052

January 26, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

As a student at The George Washington University, I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage located in the 2000 block of G Street.

I am looking forward to the increased surface improvements such as the landscape around the entry plaza that will provide an open lawn area to serve as a gathering place for students, faculty, staff and visitors. I believe this project is also necessary as it provides additional underground parking that is required as a result of the future construction of the proposed Science and Engineering Complex on Square 55.

Some of the most inspiring aspects of the project are the sustainable features. The landscaping will include usable green space and all storm water runoff will be captured on site. There will also be dedicated parking spaces in the garage with charging stations for electric cars. I look forward to seeing this project move ahead.

Sincerely,

Malcolm Fouhy
1900 F. St., NW
Washington, DC 20052

January 25, 2001

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom it may concern:

As a freshman at the George Washington University I would like to voice my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage. As a hopeful future student of GW Law School, I am excited that this project is being presented to you for approval.

The classrooms that this development is planning to add to George Washington's campus will improve the educational experience for many students and provide much needed space for student organizations to meet. However, the project does not only benefit students, or even solely those associated with the University, but the entire neighborhood as well. The additional parking will lessen the congestion that is prevalent around Eye and 22nd Streets as well as reduce competition for curbside parking. The greens space at street level will be a feature that all can enjoy.

As someone who grew up in the vicinity of a college campus, I am not a stranger to the tensions that arise between neighbors and universities. I feel that projects like the Law Learning Center Garage are so mutually beneficially that they have the ability to ease these tensions considerably.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I hope this letter can help you in your decision making.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Malcolm Fouhy", with a long, sweeping horizontal line extending to the right.

Malcolm Fouhy

Alex Yudelson
2100 Foxhall Rd NW
Washington, DC 20007

27 January 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman:

My name is Alex Yudelson and I am a student attending The George Washington University and I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

This project is an attractive and sustainable improvement to the campus and surrounding streetscape until the future above-grade portion of this project is developed. It will provide the GW Law School increased below grade academic/ administrative space. As part of the "Grow Up, Not Out" strategy, the garage concentrates density at the central core of the campus. The project's sustainable features continue GW's commitment to the use of innovative sustainable design practices and will exceed GW's campus commitment and target a Silver Rating in the USGBC's LEED 2009 for New Construction Rating System.

I appreciate your support for this project.

Best Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Alex Yudelson', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Alex Yudelson

From:
Adam Bethke
2124 Eye Street Northwest
#302
Washington, DC 20052

To:
District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To whom it may concern:

I am writing in support of the project proposal regarding the Law Learning Center Garage. The Law Learning Center Garage is a proposal that is both consistent with The George Washington University's (GWU's) plans for campus development, and with the Grow Up, Not Out initiative that the University has put forth.

The proposed plan provides a number of assets to the University. In an age where the strength of a university is often judged by its law, medical, and doctoral programs, approving the Law Learning Center is a necessary step towards the advancement of the University's credibility, recognition, and prominence in both the academic community, and the Foggy Bottom Neighborhood of Washington, D.C. Furthermore, the proposal as it stands reflects GWU's commitment to its community, its neighbors, and the local environment. The project will replace decadent and decaying buildings with a new structure that will not only provide the University with valuable classroom space, it will enhance the neighborhood. The proposal to contain the structure underground will allow for much needed scenic space in the historic Foggy Bottom neighborhood. The structure's 392 parking spaces will facilitate the increased traffic, and alleviate congestion and parking difficulties in an area which frequently sees cars parked along the entirety of the streets.

In addition to the benefits the current structure has, the proposal reflects GWU's commitment to its community through the two-stage proposal. By building an initial stage mostly underground, the University is minimizing the short-term construction period. Recognizing that the University has a number of on-going construction projects, the two-stage development will allow for the initial phase to be completed in a more immediate manner than would a one-stage, complete build similar to that done with Area 54.

Finally, the near-future environmental benefits that this construction project would have are worth considering. In its proposal for the Law Learning Center, GWU has shown that its dedication to environmentally friendly development is sincere - planning for a park with local fauna and significant environmental protection features including a 75% water reclamation project. It is for these reasons that I have taken the time to draft this letter in support of the proposal for the Law Learning Center at the George Washington University. I hope that you will consider the improvements that the Center stands to provide for both GWU and the surrounding community, and approve the zoning request.

Sincerely,

Adam Bethke
January 27th, 2011

January 28, 2011

Geoffrey Loudon
Amsterdam Hall #101
The George Washington University
2350 H Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20052

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To the Members of the Commission:

I walk past the 2000 block of G Street, NW on a regular basis, and always ponder how the space could be used more efficiently in a way that benefits both the George Washington University and the Foggy Bottom community at large. After hearing of the proposed Law Learning Center Garage Project, I believe that this proposal will achieve these ends.

Specifically, I am excited by the prospects of this proposed development and what they mean for the visual landscape of Foggy Bottom. The increased open space in the form of a green lawn provides a welcomed respite from the stone and concrete that confronts residents of Foggy Bottom. In addition, the preservation of the three adjacent townhouses according to the 2007 Campus Plan and the installation of brick pavers will preserve the historical nature of the neighborhood. Finally, the goal of receiving Silver LEED certification makes the proposal a worthy project as it will contribute to the growing trend in making life more sustainable.

I want to walk down the 2000 block of G Street, NW and be invigorated by open, green space – not the concrete that I currently encounter. I strongly urge the commission to support GW's proposal. As a student and a resident of Foggy Bottom for the past four years, I see this as beneficial to all.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Geoffrey Loudon". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Geoffrey" being more prominent than the last name "Loudon".

Geoffrey Loudon

Madelyn Boots
2121 H St, NW, #802
Washington, DC 20052

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St, NW, Suite 2015
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Maddie and I am currently a sophomore at George Washington University in the Elliott School of International Affairs. I am writing you to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103 on our Foggy Bottom Campus.

This project is important in keeping the commitment we made to the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan—without it, other projects such as the Science and Engineering Complex, cannot move forward. As part of this Campus Plan, we are devoted to growing up, not out, using the space we currently have more efficiently. And the below-grade parking facilities of this project do just that. But beyond keeping a commitment, the Law Learning Center Garage will be eco-friendly: construction materials will be recycled, all water run-off will be collected, and new bike racks, electric car charging stations, and street-level green space will not only please environmentally-minded students and community members but also set a good example for the rest of our campus developments. Hopefully you can sense how important this is to all of us in the GW community.

I appreciate your time and hope you will give this serious consideration. I look forward to seeing the Law Learning Center Garage plans move ahead.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Madelyn Boots". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Madelyn Boots
George Washington University

Kean T. McDermott
1900 F St. NW
Thurston Hall – 813
Washington, DC 20052

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 2015
Washington DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09 – 19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

Hello, my name is Kean McDermott. I am a freshman at The George Washington University studying History and Geography. The affairs of the university mean much to me as a student. In terms of development this means the development of Square 103. I am writing to pledge my support to the construction of the Law Learning Center Garage, as it is a key component of our Campus Plan.

The Law learning center will represent a great improvement in the continuing history of Square 103. In my humble opinion it is a wonderful use of previously underutilized space. The Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103 will make better use of the valuable campus space, providing classrooms, parking and green space for students where once there was nothing. It is an attractive addition to the neighborhood as a whole. What's more, the proposed development does not interfere with the historic structures located all around it on G Street.

Thank you for taking the time to recognize my support of the Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103. I look forward to seeing this development progress in the near future.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'Kean T. McDermott', with a long horizontal line extending to the right.

Kean T. McDermott
B.A. Candidate – History and Geography
The George Washington University
Class of 2014

Michael Fische
1900 F St., NW
Thurston-807
Washington, DC 20052

January 23, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 2015
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

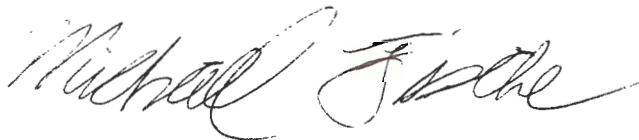

Dear Mr. Chairman,

My name is Michael Fische, and I am a freshman studying International Affairs at the George Washington University. As a student and longtime resident of DC, I am very interested in the development of the university, and, consequently, the development of the Foggy Bottom Neighborhood. To this end I would like to pledge my support to the progress of the Square 103/ Law Learning Center Garage as a key component of the Campus Plan commitments.

The development of square 103 will not only allow an expansion of academic space, but also set aside more green space, which would benefit students and residents of the Foggy Bottom area. Keeping with the University and District's commitments to be more environmentally friendly, the development of Square 103 is targeted for Silver rating in the LEED construction rating system. Additionally, the development of Square 103 supports GW's "Grow Up, Not Out" strategy, which allows for the University to develop vertically instead of horizontally, hence saving space and creating efficient usage of available property.

I would like to thank you for taking the time to read this letter and recognizing my support. I look forward to the Square 103/ Law Learning Center Garage project moving ahead in its development.

Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Michael Fische". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Michael" written in a larger, more prominent script than the last name "Fische".

Michael Fische
B.A. Candidate – International Affairs, Class of 2014
The George Washington University

Rohit Patil
600 20th Street NW
Washington, DC 20052

January 26, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Rohit Patil and I am a current sophomore attending The George Washington University. I am a biophysics major in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences. I would like to pledge my support of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103.

The 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan incorporates the "Grow Up, Not Out" development strategy. In keeping with the commitments of the Campus Plan, the Law Learning Center Garage will provide additional underground parking. This parking is essential for the future construction of the proposed Science and Engineering Complex on Square 55, which currently houses the University Parking Garage. Furthermore, the construction of the Law Learning Center Garage incorporates numerous eco-friendly features. For example, landscaping will include usable green space and there will be dedicated parking spaces with charging stations for electric cars.

I appreciate your support for this project and look forward to seeing it move ahead.

Best Regards,

Sarah Grose
2121 H St. NW Washington DC 20052
Schenley 705

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern:

Adding a new building to the GW campus would be an asset for many reasons. The potential garage and Law building would add not only extremely important space for classrooms and academic areas but most importantly an area for parking. Secondly, GW is a very sustainable campus and adding yet another example of the university's dedication to the environment would be fabulous.

The George Washington University is a dedicated member of the USAGBC LEED campaign and this building would only add to the commitment of the university. Having a sustainable project to support the "grow up, not out" campaign is a very strong incentive for the university to bring this to completion. However, another important part is the simple fact of its practicality. There is already limited space in the city to park and this would add much needed underground support. Most importantly, however, is the fact that this garage would be supporting the growing environmentally sound mechanics of the electric cars. Having "fueling" stations for these vehicles to plug into entices people to support green projects.

In close, I want to add that this building would help not only those attending The George Washington University but the community around it. By adding sustainable drainage and water collection facilities, it supports the surrounding areas to also live in a greener, more sustainable way.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read 'Sarah Grose', written in dark ink.

Sarah Grose
George Washington University

Eloise P. Smith
2141 Eye Street, NW
Apt. 714
Washington, DC 20037

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Eloise Smith and I am a student leader at The George Washington University. As a student here, I would like to pledge my support to The Law Learning Center Garage.

I am writing to encourage the developers to factor in the construction of the roof to include space for rooftop gardens and capacity for a honey bee colony initiative. The latter will contribute to the sustainability of the building and a way for community members to interact with the infrastructure around them. Usable green space should include edible annuals and perennials tended by the inhabitants and neighbors of the site. This will make Square 103 a pillar of community engagement in Foggy Bottom. It will also promote the prevalence of urban agriculture.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Eloise Smith
Food Justice Alliance, Vice President

Laura Prevete
The George Washington University
John Quincy Adams House
2129 I. St. NW
Washington, DC 20052

January 28, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St. NW, Suite 210S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Hood:

My name is Laura Prevete and I am an employee and 2009 graduate of the George Washington University. While I no longer drive to campus, there was once a time when I made the commute from Northeast Washington, DC to Foggy Bottom. The one thing that bothered me about that commute (aside from traffic) was the unsightly aboveground parking structure between 23rd and 22nd Streets on H. & I. Streets. As a current resident of Southeast Washington, DC within walking distance of the US Capitol I value the beauty and architecture that is distinctive only to Washington, DC. One thing you will not see is aboveground parking garages.

I think the University is taking a productive step in moving parking belowground and as a result will be making attractive and sustainable improvements to the campus and surrounding streetscape. Additionally, sidewalks will be replaced with brick pavers adding to the DC charm I am already so fond of. Furthermore, the renovations to the three GW townhouses, adjacent to the project at 20th and G. St., will also add to the aesthetic and appeal of GW structures in historic Foggy Bottom.

I am only too happy to support the proposed changes and look forward to hearing of the Zoning Commissions ruling on this issue.

Sincerely,

Laura Prevete
B.A. International Affairs – Class of 2009
Executive Assistant
GW Housing Programs – House Life
The George Washington University
laurap58@gwmail.gwu.edu

Akshay Roy-Chaudhury
1900 F st NW
Washington, DC 20052

January 24, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Akshay Roy-Chaudhury and I am a freshman at GW studying biology. I believe the project to build the Law Learning Center Garage on the 2000 G St. block will not only be beneficial to the students at GW, but also to the entire University itself.

For one, it will create more learning space for those students studying law, which is always a positive addition to any educational institution. Moreover, the creation of more parking spaces will allow for the advancement of the Science and Engineering Complex project. As a biology major, it is extremely exciting to know that a new building will be developed that is directed towards scientific studies and I am eagerly anticipating the ability to use it. This will help further the amount of research and education that this university provides to its students and will undoubtedly help the University itself.

Thank you for your time and I hope this helps with the decision.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Akshay Roy-Chaudhury". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with some loops and flourishes.

Akshay Roy-Chaudhury

Kate Lu
2124 Eye St., NW
The West End, Room 301
Washington, DC 20052

Jan. 28, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Kate Lu and I'm a current sophomore at The George Washington University. I am writing to you in support of the proposed Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103.

The Law Learning Center would be a beneficial addition not only to the university's campus, but to the city of DC as well. The Center would not only include much-needed parking space and additional teaching facilities for law student, but because these will be located underground, it will also allow for green space on the street level. This plan makes the most of the space that can be used, as per GW's "Grow Up, Not Out" strategy.

I urge you to consider this proposal in light of the benefits that it will provide.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to be 'Kate Lu', written in a cursive style.

Kate Lu

Christopher B. Sedor
The George Washington University
2124 Eye St. NW
West End #302
Washington, DC 20052

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom it May Concern,

I would like to express my strong support for the proposed plan to build a Law Learning Center Garage and Parking Center on Square 103 of The George Washington University Foggy Bottom campus.

The proposed plan would serve many beneficial purposes for the University. It will provide GW's Law School with a modern, attractive facility to attract prospective law students, increasing the prestige of the program. The building itself will not only decrease parking congestion around campus, but also provide the campus with an open and clean park, a valued addition to a city campus such as ours. The fact that both the building and the above ground park will be constructed with sustainable materials, and that it will encourage the use of bicycles and electric vehicles, will have a positive impact both on the University and on the Foggy Bottom neighborhood.

For the above reasons, I believe that the proposed plan will be a welcome and valued addition to The George Washington University's campus, and I look forward to seeing the completion of the project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Chris Sedor', written over a horizontal line.

Christopher B. Sedor
GWU Class of 2013
csedor@gwmail.gwu.edu

Carolyn Stalgaitis
2124 Eye St. NW
West End, Room 301
Washington DC, 20052

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

As a student at GW, I greatly look forward to watching the improvements being made on campus, including the project currently planned for Square 103. While the parking spaces and additional Law classrooms are advantageous, from the undergraduate perspective the best parts of the proposed structure are the increased green space on campus and the sustainability of the project.

While University Yard and the various other, tiny green spaces around campus provide students with some semblance of plant life, I think that the proposed landscaping will provide students with a much-needed outdoors meeting place. When the warm weather arrives during second semester, students flock to the small patches of grass found around campus. With University Yard also serving as a major thoroughfare for students en-route to class, however, its lawns lack the peace of a green sanctuary for students looking to relax. Most of the other green spaces on campus are extremely small, so I believe that the addition of green space on the site of Square 103 would provide students with a spacious and peaceful bit of the countryside right here in Foggy Bottom.

Additionally, I believe that the project should proceed because it showcases GW's continuing commitment to eco-friendliness. With the LEED certification of South and West Halls, GW has proven how seriously the university takes sustainability. This project, with its recycled and salvaged materials and local flora, will solidify GW's pledge to reduce its impact on the environment.

I believe that this project would be a great addition to the GW campus, and I look forward to being able to enjoy the additional green space on campus.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, reading "Carolyn Stalgaitis". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style. The first name "Carolyn" is written in a larger, more prominent script, and the last name "Stalgaitis" follows it in a similar but slightly smaller script.

Carolyn Stalgaitis
GWU Class of 2013

Melissa Eddison
2401 H Street, NW
Apt. 504
Washington, DC 20037

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Melissa Eddison and I am a student leader at The George Washington University. As a student here, I would like to pledge my support to The Law Learning Center Garage.

I am writing to encourage the developers to factor in the construction of the roof to include space for rooftop gardens and capacity for a honey bee colony initiative. The latter will contribute to the sustainability of the building and a way for community members to interact with the infrastructure around them. Usable green space should include edible annuals and perennials tended by the inhabitants and neighbors of the site. This will make Square 103 a pillar of community engagement in Foggy Bottom. It will also promote the prevalence of urban agriculture.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Melissa Eddison
The George Washington University
The Food Justice Alliance, President
Casey Trees Planning and Design Partner
GroW Community Garden Fellow
Urban Food Task Force, Student Liaison

Tyler McDonald
2121 H 20th St, NW, #80
Washington, DC 20052

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St, NW, Suite 2015
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Tyler and I am currently a sophomore at George Washington University in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences. I am writing you to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103 on our Foggy Bottom Campus.

This project is important in keeping the commitment we made to the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus Plan—without it, other projects such as the Science and Engineering Complex, cannot move forward. As part of this Campus Plan, we are devoted to growing up, not out, using the space we currently have more efficiently. And the below-grade parking facilities planned in this project will accomplish this effectively.

But beyond keeping a commitment, the Law Learning Center Garage will be eco-friendly: construction materials will be recycled, all water run-off will be collected, electric car charging stations, and street-level green space will not only please environmentally-minded students and community members but also set a good example for the rest of our campus developments. This cause is very important to all of us in the GW community.

I appreciate your time and I hope you will give this serious consideration. I look forward to seeing the Law Learning Center Garage plans move forward.

Sincerely,

Daniel Kattan
2201 Virginia Ave, NW Rm 302
Washington DC, 20052

January 26, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Mr. Chairman,

My name is Daniel Kattan and I am a Junior at the George Washington University studying Computer Engineering. As a student at The George Washington I would like to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage.

This project will benefit not just those who park their cars at GW or those who attend the GW Law School. As an engineering student, this project will benefit myself and my fellow engineering students. This building will provide the parking spaces necessary to tear down the above ground parking structure on H and 22nd, the site of the proposed new science and engineering building. This new building will greatly benefit the many students in the School of Engineering and Applied Science, giving them access to modern equipment and facilities the engineering program currently lacks.

The new law school building will also help beautify GW's Foggy Bottom campus with a more modern building and green spaces. The new building will also benefit the GW community and the surrounding Foggy Bottom community by being more eco-friendly.

I look forward to seeing this project move ahead.

Thank you very much,

Daniel Kattan

Jennifer Brookes
1900 F Street, NW
Thurston Hall - Room 403
Washington, DC 20052

January 21, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern:

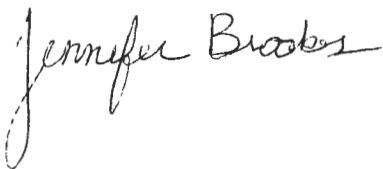

My name is Jennifer Brookes and I am a student at the George Washington University. I am currently really excited about the proposed project of the Law Learning Center Garage to be built in Square 103! This, along with other projects in Foggy Bottom, will really contribute to our school and the city.

Firstly, this project will provide additional academic space to students attending the George Washington University Law School. It will add almost 400 much-needed parking spaces to the Foggy Bottom neighborhood, as well as another green area for students and residents to congregate in. Both this green space and the brick pavement will improve the aesthetic appeal of the neighborhood.

Another aspect about the Square 103 project that excites me is the goal of making it Silver LEED certified. Along with other buildings on campus such as South Hall and West Hall, another LEED certified building shows the university's commitment to sustainability, along with DC as a whole.

I look forward to seeing this project move forward!

Sincerely,
Jennifer Brookes

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Jennifer Brookes". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the typed name.

Kimia Pakdaman
2100 Foxhall Road NW
Merriweather Hall #210
Washington, DC 20007

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern:

I am a Freshman at the George Washington University and the Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103 is important for both my school and myself.

With this project, George Washington will be keeping its promise to the community to "grow up, not out." Because this building plans to have below-grade parking, it utilizes the space to make it more visually appealing. Though my favorite part of the new Law Learning Center Garage is the sustainability aspect. It will be constructed to meet LEED standards, which means it will include bike storage, green space, and charging stations for electric cars. The future of GW and the United States depends on buildings such as these that are mindful of the environment.

Thus, I hope that the Law Learning Center Garage is approved because it is an improvement not just for the university, but for the surrounding Foggy Bottom neighborhood.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Kimia', with a stylized, wavy line extending from the end.

Kimia Pakdaman

Adrienne Bond
80 Bellevue ave
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043

January 25, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Sir or Madam:

It is imperative that the Law Learning Center Garage on Square 103 be created in the 2000 block of G Street. The benefits for University if said project was created include and increase in academic space for the Law School, a beautiful and sustainable environment on the side of campus lacking green space and fulfilling the "Grow Up, Not Out" campus strategy. In conclusion, the addition of this Garage will improve the lives of the students, administration, and Washington community.

Sincerely,

Adrienne Bond

Erin McCluskey
2020 F Street, NW
Apt. 911
Washington, DC 20008

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Erin McCluskey and I am a student leader at The George Washington University. As a student here, I would like to pledge my support to The Law Learning Center Garage.

I am writing to encourage the developers to factor in the construction of the roof to include space for rooftop gardens and capacity for a honey bee colony initiative. The latter will contribute to the sustainability of the building and a way for community members to interact with the infrastructure around them. Usable green space should include edible annuals and perennials tended by the inhabitants and neighbors of the site. This will make Square 103 a pillar of community engagement in Foggy Bottom. It will also promote the prevalence of urban agriculture.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Erin McCluskey', with a long, sweeping flourish extending to the right.

Erin McCluskey
Food Justice Alliance Garden Manager

Corinne Haynes
2223 H St. NW
Fulbright #805
Washington, DC 20052

January 26th, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Corinne Haynes and I am a sophomore at The George Washington University majoring in Dance and Environmental Studies. I am writing you to show my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103 of our Foggy Bottom Campus.

This project will house one level of program space for the Law School and four levels of underground parking. In addition, it will provide an open lawn area around the entry plaza, which will serve as a gathering place for students, faculty and visitors. This is a part of GWU's "Grow Up, Not Out" strategy, and will also serve as an attractive and sustainable improvement to the campus.

I appreciate your time and consideration, and look forward to the further development of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Corinne Haynes", with a stylized, flowing script.

Fletcher Montzingo
2124 Eye St, NW, #410
Washington, DC 20052

January 27, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th St, NW, Suite 2015
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear Chairman Anthony Hood,

My name is Fletcher and I am currently a sophomore at George Washington University in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences. I am writing this letter in order to pledge my support for the development of the Law Learning Center Garage in Square 103 on our Foggy Bottom Campus.

This project is critical to the growth of a university that is rising in status as both an accomplished undergraduate institution and a research institution. Through the expansion of more parking-space, the university can grow to include a greater range of faculty members and researchers-the type of minds that can help shape America's future. In keeping with the 2007 Foggy Bottom Campus plan, this project pledges to grow up and not out, thus increasing the efficiency of the buildings and space already owned by the university. Additionally, in accordance with a greater demand upon developmental sustainability, this structure will be eco-friendly through the recycling of construction materials, the collection of water runoff, the addition of more bike racks, and the implementation of electric charging stations. This project will not only satiate the growing demand by students and faculty for more parking spaces, but will do so well within the parameters establish for the expansion of this university. I hope you can understand that this is a necessary and imperative expansion.

I appreciate your time and hope you will give this serious consideration. I look forward to seeing the Law Learning Center Garage plans move ahead.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read 'F Montzingo', written in dark ink.

Trofym Anderson
1900 F St. NW
Washington, DC 20052

Friday, January 28, 2011

District of Columbia Zoning Commission
Attn: Chairman Anthony Hood
441 4th Street, NW, Suite 201S
Washington, DC 20001

Re: Zoning Commission Case Number 09-19

Dear, Chairman Anthony Hood

My name is Trofym Anderson and I'm a freshman in the Business School at The George Washington University concentrating in marketing and finance. I am attending GW with an athletic scholarship on the men's varsity rowing team.

I am writing to you to express my support for the law learning center garage. I feel that not only will this project help to support the university 2007 Foggy Bottom campus plan but will also add to the vibrancy of the surrounding area green space. I look forward to seeing this project being completed during my studies here at George Washington.

Thank you for your time and consideration moving forward with this project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Trofym Anderson". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Trofym" and last name "Anderson" clearly distinguishable.

Trofym Anderson