To 'anora.goldingring@yahoo.com',

To whom it may concern,

This letter is being written to provide firsthand information regarding my relationship with Ms. Clark of Lena Sears Child Development Center. My son, Dallis Fletcher, had been attending the Lena Sears Child Development Center for over a year, and during that time, Ms. Clark was one of the providers who shined. Ms. Clark was always very attentive to Dallis's needs even though he was not in her class. When Dallis got older and was a part of Ms. Clark's class, her care, dedication, and professionalism had a great impact on Dallis.

Ms. Clark's work ethic helped me. As a parent, you worry about the safety and care of your child when they are away from you, but Ms. Clark made it easy for me to leave my son and go to work. Overall, Ms. Clark is a sheer professional who I would recommend to any daycare facility or family. Such adjectives that describe her are dedicated, responsible, caring, attentive, motivating, influential, and strong. She has helped build the foundation of knowledge and social interaction that has shaped my son. Ms. Clark is very good at what she does, and any child who is under her care is lucky.

Should you need further information about Ms. Clark, please feel free to contact me on (202) 677-0362.

Sincerely,

Tamika N. Tresvant

To Whom It May Concern:

I cried the night before I had to returned to work. I really wanted to stay home a little longer with my first born son. I just thought that know one would understand my baby's moans, jesters and overall know how to care for him as I did.

When I took my son to Lena Sears Child Development Center on his first day of child care I was nervous, and my heart ached, there where so many emotions that I was fighting back tears.

Mrs. Williams, the teacher for the infant program, interaction towards all of the infants put my fears aside I would come to pick my son up in the evenings and waited quietly outside the door be known to anyone, and watch Mrs. Williams rocking the babies in the rocking chair, and singing to them. Other times she would read them books, take to them in her soft, sweet voice and this was just so wonderful for me to see!

I am so appreciative for the experience I had at Lena Sears, therefore when my second child was born, she also attended Lena Seas Child Development Center. It is so difficult to find a center that provides quality child care, where the staff member are down to earth, caring professionals.

Mrs. Golding and her staff are caring people that work very well with children and their families. Because, of My experience with Mrs. Williams I asked her to be my son's God Mother, and she graciously excepted.

If you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to give me a call. 240-419-7444

To Whom It May Concern,

After raising three sons and finding daycares for them. God blessed me with good Professional people to care for my children. Then after years of daycare experience I found myself looking for a place for my grandson. Well I find not just a good daycare with professional staff. I found a loving, nurturing, daycare that was more than I expected. My grandson loved going to school as he called it. They taught him not just songs. but he was more advanced when he went to D.C. public school than the other kids. Even though he has been gone away from Lera Sears since August he continues to ask me do I remember when he went to the other school and they taught me "this or that".

My opinion of Lera Sears CDC is they are a great example and role for other daycares to follow.

I have family members waiting for Lera Sears to reopen based on how my grandson demonstrates what he learned there + from how please I was with Lera Sears.

Re: Lena Sears Child Development Center

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter in support of the Lena Sears Child Development Center. I have used this center for both of my daughters for more than a decade from 2002 to 2013. They have been a constant source of child care for me from infancy to summer camps. Mrs. Goldring has been there right alongside both of my children and has helped me by providing a wealth of "new mom" knowledge. I have supported the center in the past and will continue to support the center because they have a great atmosphere and are advocates of children.

Please don't hesitate to reach out to me if you would like to discuss this further.

Thanks for your time.

Sincerely,

Dr. Phillips
