Park Rd NW

An aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood. A street, labeled 'Park Rd NW', runs diagonally across the middle of the image. The street is light gray and has a white dashed line down the center. On the left side of the street, there are several houses, including a large white house with a blue circle on its roof. On the right side, there are more houses, some with red roofs, and a large green field. The overall scene is a mix of urban and suburban architecture.
