

A Scuriatti <ascuriatti@gmail.com>

your old house

6 messages

ascuriatti <ascuriatti@gmail.com>

Wed, Nov 4, 2015 at 9:34 PM

To: paige <paigewt@mac.com>

Dear Paige - hello I hope you are well! I think of you every time I go by McLean Gardens. I wonder how you are, and how Carley is doing. Our boys are so big. Nic is in high school now at St. John's.

I am writing to ask you a question. Was the kitchen extension on your old house an original part of the house? Or was it added afterwards? The new owners want to put big extension on the back and part of their plan depends on claiming that this was original to the house. They want to extend all along the house, porch and to the garage - just 5 feet from the fence!

Anyway, I hope it is in the city records but I thought you might know and be able to save me the headache of trying to find that!

Take care. My number is 202 674 4559. It would be nice to have a coffee some time at the house.

Thanks in advance.

Ciao,
Allison

paige thompson <paigewt@mac.com>

Thu, Nov 5, 2015 at 1:22 PM

To: ascuriatti <ascuriatti@gmail.com>

Well hello!

Tom & I added on the eat-in kitchen & powder bathroom, as well as opening an archway walk-through from the kitchen to the living room. Carley was potty training & we needed a first floor bath! also added were the French doors leading out to the mini patio. ALL WERE ADDITIONS THAT WE UNDERTOOK IN 1995/96ish.

we also did so with the approval of all surrounding neighbors!

Your neighbors are in the wrong, and wow, the plan you outlined should clearly be denied. (I also think there is an 8 foot rule minimum, from end of my house, to the fence).

Visually, it is very clear that our 1941 brick colonel home has been altered. The cedar shingles & the bathroom WITH EXPOSED BRICK WALL (originally the outside wall of house)

Sent from my iPhone

[Quoted text hidden]

paige thompson <paigewt@mac.com>

Thu, Nov 5, 2015 at 1:31 PM

To: ascuriatti <ascuriatti@gmail.com>

... oops, boarding plane, hit send by accident!

so yeah, the cedar exterior to our addition (not even attempting to match the original BRICK) is a dead giveaway. not to mention the exterior "exposed" brick that we left revealed in the bathroom.

You've definitely won your case, counselor! FYI: we use the design/build firm called CASE (up off Sangamore Rd). they will surely have records also.

Board of Zoning Adjustment
District of Columbia
Office of the EXHIBIT NO.26