

I have been thinking about this since we received the notice from the Zoning Board. I hesitate to squelch a growing family's plan to make more room for their family in their home. However, because I also believe the historic and aesthetic beauty of a neighborhood like ours should be preserved, I vote against granting the exemption. I'm not opposed to all pop-ups, but it depends on the location. I think it would be out of place in the middle of that lovely row of houses on the east side of Elliott Street.
