Dear Zoning Commissioners:

The George Washington University has been a very good partner with the Foggy Bottom community in both its support of economic development and its support of its neighbors. The university reaches out to the community to solve town-gown issues. The university student leadership works well with residents in the community to support businesses and to ease tensions. The university's request for up-zoning with its Build Up, Not Out concept will further help to ease tensions and make for an even more economically dynamic community. This business, my barber shop, whole-heartedly supports GW's efforts in its new campus plan.

Thank you.
