Dear DC Zoning Commission:

September 13, 2006

I write this letter of support to you for the George Washington University to win approval of its new campus plan and development projects. The university has been a very good neighbor in the community always trying to assist the students, neighbors and local businesses with their concerns and progress. The university works with the community to solve problems that may arise between neighbors and students and works to assure the community is safe, beautiful, clean and wholesome. Local businesses provide jobs and city revenues and the university provides customers and opportunities for the community to enjoy cultural and educational opportunities.

The new campus plan development will continue to support the community and local businesses. The university would like to put more density on campus so as to not expand into the residential community. This concept I very much support and wish to encourage you to approve the university's campus plan for 20 years. Thank you very much for reading this letter. I am,

Shitaye Amde
Manager
