Dear Mr. Hood:

I am writing to inform you of the wonderful work Georgetown University, its faculty, staff and students have done, not only with my son, but also with other students in schools throughout Washington, DC. In the four years that my son, Vincent has been involved in Georgetown's Meyers Institute for College Preparation (MICP), he has grown into a hardworking young man with a goal to attend college, and I know I have MICP to thank for that.

The attention Vincent receives from MICP teachers and staff is helping to make him feel confident in his abilities and also teaching him the value of discipline and hard work, traits that will serve him well throughout the rest of his life.

More than anything else we appreciate all the experiences Vincent has had during his time at Georgetown. He often comes home with tales about what he's learned in his English class, and the books that he reads, that he will remember for the rest of his life. Georgetown University, through MICP, is a supportive community focused on giving each student the best education and opportunities possible, and their program has provided Vincent with just that.

I am confident that, with the continued support of Georgetown's MICP over the next 3 years of Vincent's involvement, he has the opportunity to not only enter college but also to complete it, obtain a satisfying career and give back to the community.

I feel very fortunate that my son is involved in this program and can't thank Georgetown University and the Meyers Institute for College Preparation enough for all they have done to make a difference in so many lives. I support Georgetown University's Campus Plan and urge you to approve their plan. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Vincent Brown, Sr.
