Dear Mr. Clark:

Thank you for your time this morning. I write with a grateful heart simply to express my appreciation for your perspective on development in the District of Columbia and the role of the Department of Consumer and Regulatory Affairs. In particular, I was gratified when you assured us that the Holladay Corporation's proposed development on Square 895 and 865 will receive either Large Tract Review or some other form of special scrutiny during which the community at large will have the opportunity to express its concerns and issues and will be assured of adequate and precise response from the District of Columbia government and the developers, The Holladay Corporation. Please be assured that I will personally support you in your work and pray for you often as you confront the challenges of your occupation.

The Lord be with you.

Richard E. Downing
