Re: BZA Application Case No. 16611: Proposed Edmund Burke School Expansion

To Whom It May Concern:

Edmund Burke College Preparatory School is an excellent school for the District of Columbia. In addition to the school attracting families back into DC, it offers an excellent education, a diverse student body, and gives back to DC through its solid community service program.

Edmund Burke's school mission and values produce excellent citizens that benefit the District of Columbia and the world.

As parents of two children who attend Edmund Burke, we look forward to a more comprehensive plan that allows for a safer and less congested traffic pattern. The enhanced program space is needed for expanded math and science programs, the arts, a new library, and "breathing space" for our children.

Therefore, we embrace and support the Burke mission in the city and the role an expanded program space would play in contributing to a Burke education. As residence and home owners of the District of Columbia for over 25 years, we hope to have your support regarding our schools new building plan.

Sincerely,

Denise King-Miller
