ABOUT THE INTERFAITH CONFERENCE

The InterFaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington (IFC) connects, informs and unifies eight communities of faith to work together toward positive social change on issues of poverty, justice, racism and the family and to build understanding among very diverse people in this region. Its members are the Bahà'í, Hindu-Jain, Islamic, Jewish, Latter-day Saints, Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Sikh faith communities:

Issues: IFC works to build a more just community through education, advocacy, collaboration, and coalition building. Our work with high school youth is strengthening their core values and empowering them for inter-generational leadership with adults. Strengthening children and families and overcoming racism are priorities of our Commission on Social and Economic Justice. We address issues of hate-violence both through prevention and response. Our Congregational Partnerships Project pairs diverse congregations to deepen understanding and work collaboratively on social justice issues. IFC coordinates the work of the regional leaders of diverse faiths who speak and act together on critical issues. IFC supports direct service agencies through annually updating and distributing this Emergency Food and Shelter Directory (EFSD).

Coalitions: IFC co-sponsored and administered the four year Campaign for New Community project to help neighborhoods and human service providers work more collaboratively. IFC also coordinated the development of the Coalition of Homeless and Housing Organizations (COHHO), initiated the Capital Area Community Food Bank, Garden Resources of Washington (GROW), and the Coalition for the Homeless, and helped bring the Women, Infant and Children (WIC) program to Washington, DC.

Dialogue: IFC increases understanding among persons of diverse backgrounds in several ways. Dialogue is a regular part of each meeting of its board of religious leaders. The Spring Public Dialogue is held for youths and adults on a topic of current interest. IFC regularly assists congregations in planning programs on other faith traditions or in examining issues from the perspective of several faiths. IFC sponsors or co-sponsors interfaith prayer services, including one for Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday each January. Our largest annual program and fund-raising event is the annual concert, held each Thanksgiving season. This is a dramatic experience of our diversity and unity as many faiths praise God through sacred music, chant, and dance.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This significant community service is possible only because of the cooperation of many groups and individuals. The IFC is very grateful to each.

The back cover acknowledges the corporations, foundations and congregations whose major support made the preparation and distribution of this Eighteenth Edition possible! It is by far the largest and most comprehensive, compact guide of its kind in this region. We also appreciate the support of the Metropolitan Washington Council, AFL-CIO, and COSTCO Wholesale.

The United Way of the National Capital Area continued its longstanding involvement in meeting human needs by generously contributing towards the printing costs and assisting with its distribution.

We are delighted to welcome The Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments as our new partner this year. David Robertson, David Sylvester and especially Kristin O'Connor of COG's staff were most helpful in preparing this expanded edition.

The careful updating and addition of new entries was executed by Peter A. Drabbant, IFC Staff Associate. The IFC Office Manager, Margaret Mattinson, oversees IFC's year-round distribution of this directory. Also, special thanks to Reverend Dr. Clark Lobenstine, Executive Director of IFC, and Diane Sherwood, Ph.D., Assistant Director, for their collaborative guidance. Mr. Russell Womack as well as missionaries from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints have been essential volunteers.

The InterFaith Conference is especially thankful to the countless volunteers and staff members of the agencies listed in the Emergency Food and Shelter Directory for their generous response and commitment to meeting the needs of the hungry and homeless and those in need of health care in the metropolitan area.

USING THIS DIRECTORY

The Emergency Food and Shelter Directory (EFSD) is prepared each year by the InterFaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington (IFC) for use by congregations, non-profit and government agencies and individuals in their work with persons in need. The work and members of the IFC are described on the inside covers. This edition has been enlarged, completely updated and contains six sections:

I. Emergency Food
II. Soup Kitchens
III. Shelters
IV. Medical Services
V. Day Shelters
VI. Additional Resources

For each entry, you will find details about the type of services offered and/or need for referrals, identification, and restrictions (i.e. geographical, gender, age, etc.). The information was provided by the agencies listed. We are grateful to each agency for its cooperation. Significant effort has been made to insure the accuracy of the EFSD. However, mistakes and agency changes may occur. Contact the individual agency for updated information and further description of services. To keep this list as correct as possible, please contact IFC at (202) 234-6300, fax: 202-234-6303 or e-mail: ifc@interfaith-metrodc.org to provide any corrections, additions, or deletions.

A current edition of the EFSD can also be accessed through the IFC website at http://www.interfaith-metrodc.org, or the COG website at www.mwcog.org The Internet not only increases the EFSD's impact, but also helps the IFC use printed editions more efficiently.
