To Whom It May Concern:

The level of concern that housing staff have for the well-being of my clients is very important in my choice of where I want to house them. This becomes evident in my decision to house many of them at a Superior Services Group Home located at 715 Quebec Place NW. I have witnessed staff-client interactions and I can confidently state that staff at the house always gives the client the highest level of respect. Whenever I have visited the house, there was a low level of noise, the rooms were extremely neat and well-kept, and most of the tenants seemed to display a pleasant attitude. For the most part, whenever I need housing they have something available and have always graciously accepted our clients despite most of them having mental illnesses. Therefore, I feel certain that my clients who reside there are receiving the best care and supervision possible. For those problems that clients have had while staying there, most of these situations were cleared up fairly quickly and the staff made sure all efforts were employed to help prevent a similar situation from occurring again.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Bolduc, L.G.S.W., CAC
