Re: Application for Special Exemption
By SBA Penn Branch shopping Center
BZA Case No: 16753

Dear Chairperson Reid:

This letter is in protest to an application made for special exemption to permit a cellular tower to be constructed at the Penn Branch shopping Center. This is in the residential community of Penn Branch and Hillcrest SE.

I am opposed to the cellular tower because it would have a serious physical and mental adverse affect on resident's health. I believe it would exacerbate any existing poor health conditions of the residents of this community and commercial customers. Additionally, there has not been any guarantees given to indicate that the tower will not possibly create new health concerns for residents in this community.

There has been no thorough research done by the local and federal government on potential health risks posed by radiation emitted from such a facility. Probable health risks would include weakened immune system, tumors, neurological disorders; learning and memory problems; sleep disorders, headaches and skin rashes.

The placement of this tower in our residential area and close to several nearby schools (public, private and religious) is also aesthetically and financially unacceptable. Such a tower and base station will greatly decrease the desirability to own property and live nearby. Therefore, our property values will decrease at a time when citizens are anxious to return to live in DC. Furthermore, there is a great deal of interest to live East of the River! That interest will decrease with the erection of this tower.

Please oppose the construction of this tower. We, the residents of ANC7B/SMD 7B07, need your support.

Thank you very much for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely,
Merritt L. Johnson II
