Youth Services Center

Proposed Use, Number of Youth, Staff and Parking Spaces

The Government of the District of Columbia Department of Human Services, Youth Services Administration (YSA) proposes to construct a state-of-the-art Youth Services Center that provides a temporary, safe and secure environment for detained youth, a police juvenile processing center and community program center.

The facility will consist of eighty (80) beds for youth between the ages of 11-17 years old who have been detained, in pre-trail status, and/or committed by the family court division. The facility shall not house youth who are charged by the U.S. Attorney with a felony offense. The expected stay for each youth is twenty one (21) days.

The proposed facility will also consist of eighty (80) rotating administrative and correctional personnel. The facility shall provide a total of sixty-five (65) parking spaces for visitors and staff/personnel. The southeast section (front parking lot) of the site will consist of fourteen (14) parking spaces for visitors, staff/personnel and persons with disabilities. The northwest section (rear parking lot) of the site will consist of fifty-one (51) parking spaces for staff and personnel only.

The community center will be utilized by neighbor community based organizations to provide various community services such as, indoor recreation, community meetings, in addition to activities as determined by the community organizations and YSA. The community center will operate daily between the hours of 10am - 8:00pm. The community center will be separated from detention functions by sally ports and security grade walls.

The facility is to be constructed on the site of the former Receiving Home for Children, 1000 Mount Olivet Road, NE, Washington, DC.
