Ref: Letter of Support for CitiWide Computer Training Center's Application for Certificate of Occupancy # BZA Case 16961

CitiWide Computer Training Center (CitiWide) has been a member of the Council of Latino Agencies for well over 8 years. CitiWide has been providing computer literacy and other educational programs to low-income families in the District of Columbia for over 10 years. CitiWide is helping in bridging the digital divide prevalent in our community today. The services they provide is tremendously needed in the District and that is why The Council of Latino Agencies is in full support of CitiWide's application for Certificate of Occupancy, and we believe that their program will continue to have a positive impact on the lives of the low income communities they serve.

The mission of the Council of Latino Agencies is to support and promote its grassroots members for the betterment of the community and to act as a voice of the Latino community in the District of Columbia. It's role as a policy advocate and information clearinghouse on the Latino community makes the Council an effective bridge between grassroots organizations and policymakers. CLA seeks to build capacity and strengthen the collective impact of the Council's member agencies in areas such as community leadership, fundraising, coalition building, and advocacy. Recognizing that its comparative advantage lies in creating consensus, articulating collective interests, and brokering policy discussions, the Council is phasing out its direct service projects and will emphasize its strategic role as an umbrella organization that serves as an effective intermediary.

If I may be of any further assistance please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Eugenio Arene

RE: BZA Case No. 16961

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to support the application submitted by CitiWide Computer Training Center for Certificate of Occupancy.

CitiWide provides computer technology training, GED assistance program, after-school and summer programs to low-income and other traditionally underserved populations using computer-based approach. Their services are much needed in the community.

Mary's Center is a family focused center that has provided holistic and culturally responsive health care to women and their families in the District since 1988. With an emphasis on immigrant populations and adolescent parents, we offer comprehensive family-centered services. We know first hand how the lack of integration affects our clients and their communities.

I have no hesitation in supporting CitiWide's application for Certificate of Occupancy.

To Whom It May Concern:

The United Planning Organization (UPO), the Community Action Agency for the Nation's capital has provided a broad range of human services for low-income individuals and families for over thirty-eight years. The Office of Community Programs, United Planning is pleased to support CitiWide Computer Training Center in its efforts to acquire Certificate of Occupancy for their program.

CitiWide has vigorously and successfully pursued empowerment of District of Columbia residents including low-income people, using limited funds for a number of years. CitiWide is one of the few resources available to low-income families and individuals who do not have the ability to pay for quality computer training. Using top of the line equipment and highly competent staff, CitiWide has met outcomes and measures outlined during each cycle in which UPO has provided assistance. Citiwide's educational and technology programs help to uplift the social and economic status of low-income families in the District.

UPO has no hesitation in endorsing the application for Certificate of Occupancy made by Citiwide Computer Training Center. Please call me at 202-238-4683 if you have any questions

Dear Sirs/Madam:

I am pleased to provide this letter of support for Citiwide Computer Training Center. The program that is offered by Citiwide is extremely comprehensive and beneficial for the people in the community.

The Family Place is a drop-in community center in the same community as Citiwide and I witness everyday the need for a program such as this. There is such a tremendous need for low-income and underserved individuals in this community to receive the computer application skills as well as other technical skills offered by Citiwide. The opportunity provided to low-income community residents that Citiwide focuses on is just the right start someone would need as they begin their stride towards self-sufficiency.

Citiwide Computer Training Center is absolutely a program worth your investment.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

The reason I chose Citywide Computer Training Center is that I had heard so much about it's reputation, so I decided to go with it's popularity that is has on being a good computer school. Without a doubt, this is why I have chosen this school.

My experience with Citywide is that you are able to work at your own pace without having a time limit on which to do your work. I also find it to be very relaxing because the classroom size doesn't have that many people, so it makes it easier to study without a lot of distractions.

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to give testimony to the great good I have personally experienced from Citiwide Computer Training Center and to implore you to give it the highest consideration of support through grants and other resources.

Citiwide is conveniently located in my building, the Woodner, where I live. I noticed its announcements for program training assistance for those who qualify by low financial resources. Thinking I qualified, I applied in June 2002.

I am 61, and was without work since July 2001. In August 2001, I committed my entire life savings to going full-time to the John Paul II Institute for Studies on Marriage and Family at CUA, in order to work the remainder of my life pastorally in the District or wherever I may be led in order to bring wholeness to marriage and family. According to my careful calculations, I would have zero savings by the time of graduation, May 15, 2003. This is still true. I trusted and trust that by then, God will provide.

The study load is extremely heavy, and there is no way to do part-time work during the semesters. Between semesters, it is all very iffy, as you well know the economy. I have avoided loans because the payback would limit where I could later work.

When Anthony at Citiwide realized that in June 2002 I did not qualify because I had sufficient earnings from the prior work year, even though they were all committed and would be zero by May 2003, he had the gracious and extraordinary kindness to voluntarily give me the training program as his contribution to the future pastoral work in which I would be using it and to the studies of the present which would make the future possible. In the meantime, in September-October, ancient classmates donated to me a computer with Windows 98/Microsoft Office 97, a gift toward the same purpose.

I am utterly amazed at the generosity bestowed on me, and will always be grateful to Anthony at Citiwide. I am able to observe his similar generosity with others, humble and of meager earnings, who come through the office to learn and to grow, to make the most of what America has to offer. All colors and races and tongues are served with equal generosity and respect. It is marvelous to see.

Please give every consideration to Citiwide in providing what is needed to continue this kind and generous work. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Margaret A. Uglow

Dear Sir/Madam;

Re: letter of support for citiwide computer training center

I chose to attend Citiwide Computer Training Center because of the following reasons:

1. Location
2. Classroom Size
3. Hours of Operation
4. One on One Student/Computer Use
5. When it comes to computer training, the instructors know their stuff

My experience at CCTC has been very interesting. Prior to me attending CCTC, my knowledge of information technology was very limited. Within a matter of months, my knowledge of information technology went from zero to 'hey I know something about information technology

I truly support the training at citiwide computer taining center because it is the perfect training center for people who have little or no knowledge of information technology.

RE: Letter of Support for Citiwide Computer Training Center

I would like to see Citiwide remain opened because I've learned so much about the facility I believe it has so much to offer students, it is a very good facility for learning and preparing students for job placement. The individuals here are so pleasant and polite. The instructors are very patient and helpful. I've learned so much about the computer courses. It gave me confidence in computer skills and inspiration. Mr. Anthony and Mrs. Musa are very helpful.

I'm glad I was recommended to Citiwide Computer Training Center. It; has been a blessing to be apart of this facility. I thank Citiwide and the instructors for teaching me how to operate a computer safely and properly. And I thank the Instructors for allowing me to be apart The Citiwide facility.
