Re: 4825 Dexter Terrace, N.W.
(BZA Appeal No. 17285)

Dear Mr. Canavan:

In response to the correspondence from Patrick Carome regarding the posting of permits at the address listed above, on behalf of the property owners, please be advised of the following:

1. All of the necessary permits for construction at the subject property have been posted on the subject property and Mr. Carome has copies of all these permits. The trailers referenced in Mr. Carome's letter are moving vans for the owner's household furnishings;
2. The validity of these permits is pending before the BZA and DCRA should not interfere with the Board's authority in this regard;
3. Mr. Carome can easily verify the existence of any new permits by contacting DCRA or me as the property owners' counsel (there are none);
4. Mr. Carome has brought one of the appeals now pending before the BZA regarding the construction of the retaining wall. He has become so admittedly "obsessed" with this case that the property owners have sought court intervention over his alleged trespasses onto their property as evidenced by numerous photos submitted by him to the BZA and for allegedly stalking of family members off the premises.

In sum, the matter is under review by the BZA and Mr. Carome should allow that board to decide the issues without seeking personal confrontations with the owners at the site over the posting of permits on their property.

Please also note that the United States Attorneys Office, on June 9, 2005, dismissed all charges against Mr. Economides related to the alleged cutting of trees on federal parkland.

Sincerely,

Richard L. Aguglia
