Profile

Jeremiah Cohen is a native Washingtonian (born 1967 at Columbia Hospital for Women) and grew up in the cooperative townhouse community of River Park (4th & N St, SW). Jeremiah was educated entirely in the DC Public Schools, graduating near the top of his class from Woodrow Wilson Senior High School in 1985, where he was Co-Captain of the Wilson Baseball Team (All Met 1985) and Co-Editor in Chief of the Wilson Beacon.

In addition to studying, training and working as an economist, Jeremiah also had an inherent love of the hospitality business having grown up at the Tabard Inn. Jeremiah became a trained Chef in 1995. When his parents decided to retire in 1998, Jeremiah took over as General Manager of the Tabard Inn.

Jeremiah lives in D.C. with his wife Linda, a teacher at Lafayette Elementary School in DC, and their two children Rosie and Henry who attend Alice Deal Middle School.

Some of Jeremiah's other interests include coaching little league baseball, bicycling, and playing chess in Dupont Circle.
