

JOHN WOOD BOLTON, JR.

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:25

Dear Chairman Griffis:

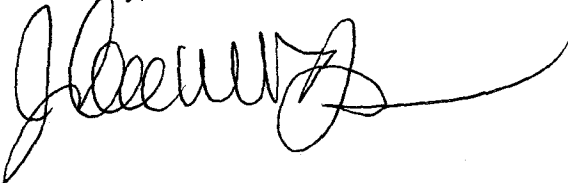

I am writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we appear before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia -- where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

BOARD OF ZONING ADJUSTMENT
District of Columbia

CASE NO. 17429
EXHIBIT NO. 57

Board of Zoning Adjustment
District of Columbia
CASE NO.17429
EXHIBIT NO.57

J. Laing Bowles
4826 Brandywine Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20016

RECEIVED
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
2011 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 21, 2006

Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Re: BZA Application #17429

Dear Mr. Griffis:

I am writing to support BZA Application #17429, which is the project proposed by St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. The school is requesting BZA approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

St. Patrick's School has been a good neighbor throughout its fifty-year history and this plan is no exception. It is well conceived, has aesthetic beauty, and will provide the dual advantage of providing additional educational opportunities in the District plus a new neighborhood that will further increase the city's tax base.

Given the advantages over the current situation, I urge the BZA to approve Application #17429.

Sincerely,

J. Laing Bowles

Megan and Michael Capozzi
1959 39th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis, Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a faculty member I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Megan & Michael Capozzi

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

RECEIVED

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 17, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

We are writing as a members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As both parents and parishioners, we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, We have witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Sophia McCrocklin & William Isaacson

James & Sharon Lowe
3903 Jocelyn Street NW
Washington, DC 20015

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

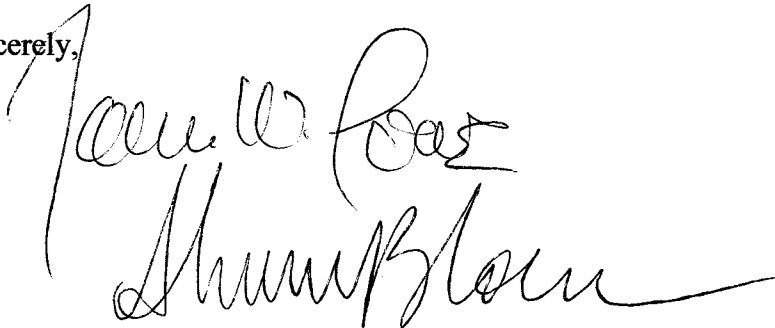

We are writing as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As both parents and parishioners we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, we witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

James W. Lowe
Sharon Lowe

3222 Oliver St., NW
Washington, DC 20015

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

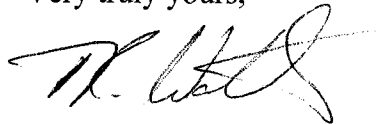

As a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community I am writing to ask for your support on February 28 of our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. For the past fifty years St. Patrick's has provided District children with an exemplary primary education. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA now for approval of its plan to extend its mission so that more families can educate their middle and high school-aged children in the District. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

From the earliest planning stages, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having watched the planning for the school campus and residential neighborhood, I believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, I am confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I can speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Every day I witness a sincere dedication to my children's moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the District's only co-educational Episcopal high school.

I sincerely hope you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that, as a school, we may offer an exceptional opportunity to families with middle and high school-aged children.

Very truly yours,

Todd R. Watkins

Bill & Melinda Becker
4829 Bending Lane, NW
Washington, DC 20007

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Bill Becker

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:25

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

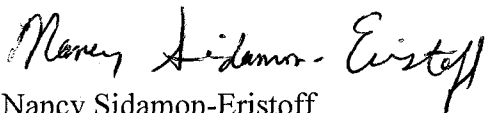

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Nancy Sidamon-Eristoff

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

Dear Chairman Griffis:

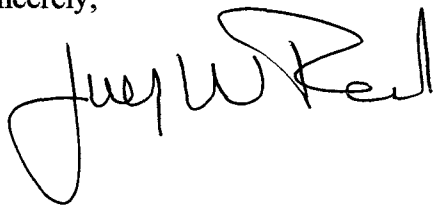

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a [parent, parishioner, faculty member] I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

RECEIVED

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a [parent, parishioner, faculty member] I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Mariana + Derek Bush

Spring Valley DC 20016

RECEIVED

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

2006 FEB 23 PM 4:24

February 17, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis, Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I am a trustee and officer of the Foundation for the Preservation of Historic Georgetown. As an ancillary part of my commitment to that group, over the past several years I have spent many, many hours at hearings held by ANCs, OGB/Fine Arts Commission, HPRB, and the BZA, supporting or protesting or simply observing the progress of various building developments in my community. I've been able to learn a lot about the good, the bad, and the ugly projects in this part of town.

However, I'm writing you today not as a Georgetowner but as a member of the nearby St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia, which project I think certainly qualifies as "good". This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood abutting 1801 Foxhall Road, which, as you know, should give "great weight" to the school's application.

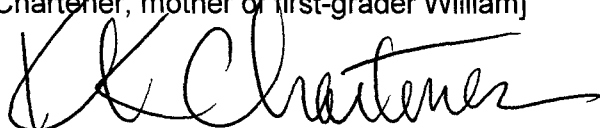

In keeping with the general suspicious attitude of the Georgetown Preservation Foundation, I am quite conservative about construction – not just in Georgetown, but in the whole of the District. But even I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, I believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, as a keen observer of urban planning I am sure that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired twin goals of fitting in with a quality residential neighborhood and creating a superb school campus.

As a fairly recent school parent, I would like to underscore how impressed I've been by St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and can easily see the benefits of establishing a co-educational Episcopal high school in D.C.

My sincere hope is that the BZA will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, I know that St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large, to the benefit of many.

Sincerely,

[Kate Chartener, mother of first-grader William]

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "K Chartener". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the typed name.