

Bill and Cassie Barnard
2700 Chain Bridge Road, N.W.
Washington, DC 20016

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

My wife and I are parents of two high school students; one of which is a freshman at Georgetown Prep, a fine school but located in North Bethesda. To say this is inconvenient is for sure an understatement when we live a few blocks from St Patrick's proposed high school and our son attended St. Patrick's from nursery school through 8th grade. I know you are aware of the serious lack of school alternatives in the District. Our son's situation may be typical. If we had had the opportunity to send him to the proposed high school we would have happily done so. We believe that the addition of a high school and expanded middle school is an appropriate use of the property and a benefit to the community. In fact, this seems to us to be an ideal use for the community and we see no serious impediment to that result.

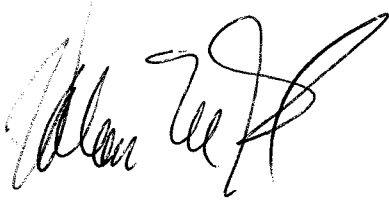

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Board of Zoning Adjustment
District of Columbia
CASE NO.17429
EXHIBIT NO.79

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Alan T. H.", written in a cursive style.

*Margaret J. Babb
4717 45th St. N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20016*

March 6, 2006

Via First Class Mail

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman

Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street N.W., Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR - 9 PM 4:37

Re: BZA Application No. 17429, St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I am writing as a property-owning, tax-paying resident of the District of Columbia, and a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community, to urge in the strongest terms possible your support as the school goes before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on June 13, 2006 with BZA Application No. 17429. Approval of the application will allow the expansion of the current school, which educates children from nursery through grade 8, to include a middle and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I can think of no finer use for the site of the former "Casey Mansion," a symbol of exclusivity and privilege, than to employ it for the expansion of a school that has dedicated itself to being broadly inclusive in providing a top-notch education to this area's children, regardless of race, creed, national origin, or sexual orientation. St. Patrick's is a welcoming, safe place not only for children who come from traditional two-parent families, but also for children from single parent and same-sex parent families. Anyone who walks the halls of St. Patrick's today will see students from a variety of ethnic groups and backgrounds. The St. Patrick's school calendar lists Christian, Jewish, and Muslim religious holidays. Students learn about, and therefore learn to respect, many religious traditions in their religion class.

The District's children need more school choices in a city whose public education system is struggling. St. Patrick's generous $1 mil. annual scholarship fund provides tuition support that allows academically promising children from both middle and lower income families to have access to a St. Patrick's education. Moreover, the District's children who take advantage of the voucher program will have an additional choice to consider in the middle and upper school grades, where any meaningful choice of schools is currently severely limited.

St. Patrick's has educated children in the District for fifty years. From the nursery school through the 8th grade, students at St. Patrick's are taught the importance of service to this community. St. Patrick's has a history of educating the mind and nurturing the spirit by being an exemplary citizen of this city. When my son was in nursery school, every month his class excitedly took part in making soup for the homeless. From kindergarten to the third grade, his classes have made sandwiches for the same purpose. Next year, he looks forward to participating in "grate patrol," during which students accompany the school chaplain one evening a month to distribute this food to the city's homeless.

Other independent schools, such as the Potomac School, have moved to the surrounding suburbs in order to expand to a high school, making it difficult for children from the District to attend. St. Patrick's, however, remains dedicated to staying in the District. The property at 1801 Foxhall Road affords the school a rare opportunity to acquire enough land in the District to accomplish the expansion and to remain in the city. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to establish the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children right here instead of sending them to Fairfax, Arlington, or Montgomery Counties.

The mission of the BZA is to manage the finite amount of available land in the District for the greater good of the community. In my view, the BZA must ask itself which alternative will best accomplish that goal -- allowing 1801 Foxhall to pass into the hands of a developer who will use the entire parcel for multi-million dollar homes to benefit the few, or allowing the parcel to be used for the expansion of a school that has a demonstrable history of faithfully serving and broadening the horizons of so many of the District's children? I believe the answer to this question is self-evident: St. Patrick's application for expansion to 1801 Foxhall Road should be approved.

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis

March 6, 2006

Page 3 of 3

My sincere belief is that the Board's vote to approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road is the obvious choice for the best use of this property and will be richly rewarded many times over in the years to come.

Very truly yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Margaret J. Babb". The script is cursive and fluid, with the first letters of each word being capitalized and prominent.

Margaret J. Babb

Parent of Trey Babb, grade 3C

CC: Peter Barrett, Head

St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School

Steven and Lindsey Rupp
1527 35th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

RECEIVED
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 PM 11:27

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, NW Room 201
Washington, DC 20002

Dear Chairman Griffis:

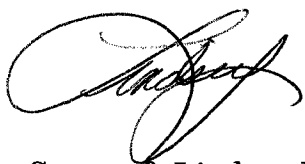

As a parent of two boys, one a 7th grade student and the other a current third grader at St. Patrick's Episcopal School and as a District of DC resident of twenty plus years I am asking for your support of St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School's application NO 17429 and request for zoning to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. We reside directly across the street from the Visitation School and can attest to how low impact a school can be on a community and in fact compliment the many assets a school can bring to a community.

In way of background, St. Patrick's Episcopal School has a fifty year record of providing outstanding education for children, with current enrollment of grades nursery through 8.

As a parent with a sixth grade graduate I can attest to how much in need we are of more choices within the District for education. My teenager now gets up daily at 5:45 AM to catch a 6:40 AM bus that drives him to Potomac, Maryland to the Bullis School. This commute creates excessively long "work" days for students who return home at 4:30 PM or 6:30 PM, depending upon their after school activities. (My son spends over One Hour and thirty minutes a day commuting or 7.5 Hours per week). I can only suggest how harried our days become if he misses that bus and we are forced to commute to Potomac and back to the District again. In addition, this geographical distance also separates students from many of their peers, and creates an environment requiring teenagers of driving age to drive considerable distances to attend peer and school social events. In the opinion of my husband and I these circumstances have moved us too far away from the concept of academically strong, small, neighborhood, coeducational schools – something St. Patrick's seeks to provide with their proposal to build a school at 1801 Foxhall. For our family the fact that St. Patrick's proposes to build a school that will also address spiritual, moral and community values is of importance.

Our hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school they may offer an exceptional alternative for District families with middle school- and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school and be a generous and thoughtful member of the community at large as they have already done before.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Steven & Lindsey Rupp", written in a cursive style.

Steven & Lindsey Rupp

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 AM 11: 26

February 25, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

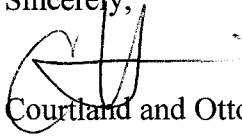

We are writing as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application (BZA Application No. 17429) to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school and church so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parents and parishioners we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, we have witnessed a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school and church into the community at large.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'Courtland and Otto Hoernig', written over a horizontal line.

Courtland and Otto Hoernig

JANE SUTTER STARKE
3103 Garfield Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20008
(202) 342-2644

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 AM 11:26

February 28, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

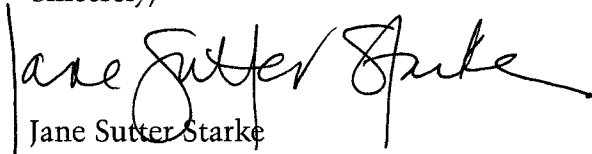

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a past parent I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
February 28, 2006
Page 2

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Jane Sutter Starke

Jaye and John Rogovin
5082 Lowell Street NW
Washington, DC 20016

Rec'd.
2/29/06

ES

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W.
Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Re: BZA Application No. 17429
Date of Hearing: February 28, 2006

Dear Mr. Griffis:

We live in Kent, on Lowell Street, and are new parents this year at St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School. Naturally, we are heartened that the ANC has reviewed the new high school project and determined that this project is possible, notwithstanding some hurdles. But we wanted to write to you (as we did to the ANC) and tell you that, as residents of this neighborhood, we believe schools are vital to us, and we strongly support the St. Pat's project.

We have lived in Kent for 9 years, and my husband grew up on Klinge Street in Wesley Heights. This neighborhood is very dear to us—indeed, we think it's the best place to live in DC. When we applied to St. Patrick's last year, our one and only concern about it is that it doesn't have a high school. When we looked in the area, the high schools available to us are so incredibly competitive and so few.

We realize we have many years to worry about this problem, but my husband, who went to GDS and then Horace Mann, and was faced with applying out to a private school for HS, learned from experience that in DC, choices are tight. And not much has changed since then, except for the fact that there are so many more children to place. What seems to happen is that kids go to these wonderful schools in the neighborhood for the young years, and then get on a bus and leave the city for the HS years because the school they happened to get into is in Potomac, or McLean, or some

Jaye and John Rogovin
5082 Lowell Street NW
Washington, DC 20016

other far away place. Of course, a select few will get spots at GDS and the Cathedral schools, but many more will have to leave the “hood.”

Building, or even expanding, a school is tough—we know this. It’s a “different” sort of neighbor to have, and sometimes people are not in favor of living near a school. That said, schools need to be built to keep up with demand (or at least help the demand). I know you know this, so I don’t intend to preach about that. But good schools in safe neighborhoods make the whole city a better place; and it keeps the neighborhood tight, the residents committed.

As a matter of record, we have another child at NCRC and understand, through our involvement there for the past several years, that a neighborhood and a school’s co-existence is a very fine balance; we believe St. Patrick’s understands this thoroughly, (especially in light of the positive way they responded to neighbors’ needs for the recent 7th and 8th grade campus).

Will our kids actually go to this high school? Maybe, maybe not. But we are strongly in favor of it nonetheless. And of all schools to build, certainly the Friends of St. Patrick’s are the ones to do it. I have poured over their website, I have attended the ANC meetings, and from all I can see, they are bending over backwards to make every possible concession, to be good neighbors, to be solid citizens.

By the way, I commute down Foxhall Road every morning and I don’t “feel” the difference of the addition of the Field School, or GW for that matter. I think it’s possible, with the right partners, a compassionate and friendly team like St. Pat’s, to make this happen in the right way.

I hope you agree with us, and the many other parents of young children who desperately want more middle- and high-school choices in the District.

Thank you so much for your consideration.

Yours truly,

Jaye Rogovin

Patricia J. Sweeney
2700 Quebec St., N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20008

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:26

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

February 21, 2006

Dear Chairman Griffis:

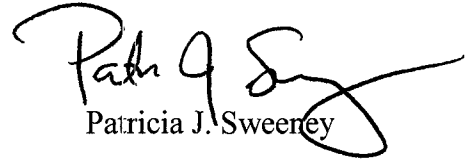

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent of a child who attended St. Patrick's from Pre-K through 8th grade, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. We were thrilled that our son had the opportunity to attend the newly expanded middle school program. We also were extremely impressed with the extraordinary level of commitment that the school administrators and students alike made to the community around the Ashby campus and the city as a whole. We were sorry that our son had no choice but to leave this service oriented and nurturing environment to attend high school. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Patricia J. Sweeney', with a large, stylized flourish extending from the end of the signature.

Patricia J. Sweeney

JENNIFER AND KYLE DANISH
4441 P STREET, NW
WASHINGTON, DC 20007

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

RECEIVED

2006 FEB 29 AM 9:30

Dear Mr. Griffis:

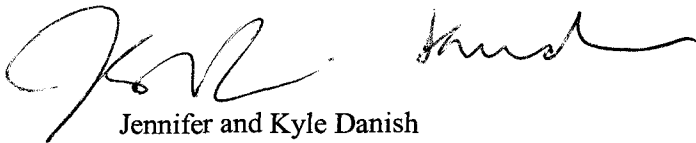

We would like to express our support for St. Patrick's and the Friends of St. Patrick's as they go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28. We have lived in Foxhall Village at 4441 P Street, NW for 7 years and our two children have attended St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School for three years. Jennifer has been a member of Friends of Hardy and the Playground Pals. We feel very connected to our neighborhood community and have worked hard to improve it tangible ways. We are saddened by the state of DC public schools, particularly the middle and high school options available. We believe in quality education and are willing to pay high taxes to live in the District. We also support this new venture by St. Patrick's.

- As a parent and a neighbor of St. Patrick's, we feel we can speak to the school's unwavering commitments at the student, academic and community service level.
- We have every reason to believe that from the very early planning stages St. Patrick's has incorporated the necessary characteristics needed to give our community an ever-lasting asset to the neighborhood.
- Having followed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall site, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, looked at, and presented. At the end of this process we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved their desired goal of -- assuring the creation of a quality residential neighborhood and a quality school campus.
- We have come to understand that both of these schools have been effective in neighborhood communications and open to addressing concerns when they have arisen.
- We think it can be said with certainty that St. Patrick's Middle School campus on MacArthur Boulevard has lived up to the promises they made in being to be an excellent neighbor, fulfilling the conformities and conditions of the BZA approval, and keeping in close touch with near-by residents through quarterly meetings and other mechanisms. The commitments of St Patrick's and its parent community to all of its neighbors is a matter of record.
- It is our sincere hope that you will give St. Patrick's the same opportunity to be a good neighbor at 1801 Foxhall and offer a nearby alternative for families with middle and high school children.

- As a school, we believe that St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of our school into the community at large. In keeping with our mission statement, St. Patrick's commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the "quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community."

We ask that you please take all of these points into consideration and support St. Patrick's BZA application. We were not in support of the opposition that led to the fall of the Mayor's mansion deal. We believe that this is a "golden deal" for the FCCA and surrounding neighbors. The creation of a quality independent school is of paramount importance to us as neighbors and to neighbors around us within your district.

Thank you for your consideration.

Handwritten signatures of Jennifer and Kyle Danish. The signature on the left is 'Jennifer' and the one on the right is 'Kyle'.

Jennifer and Kyle Danish

Charisse M. Noche
2356 40th Street, NW #102
Washington, DC 20007

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
FEB 29 AM 9:27

Dear Chairman Griffis:

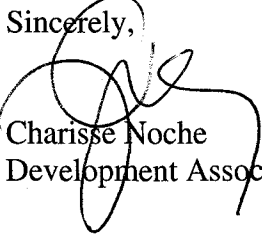

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a faculty member I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Charisse Noche
Development Associate

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hannes
4520 Foxhall Crescent, NW
Washington, DC 20007

February 23, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:27

Dear Chairman Griffis:

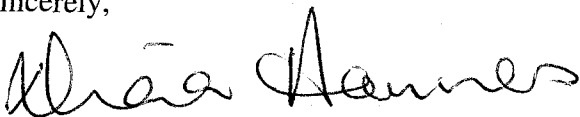

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Martin and Diana Hannes

Mary Morgan
1734 Allison St., NW
Washington, DC 20011

February 22, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

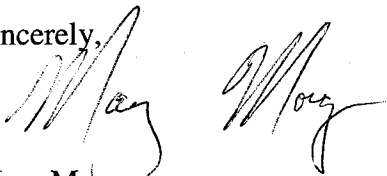

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Mary Morgan

2006 FEB -7 AM 11:51
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
RECEIVED

#79

JOHN BUCKLEY

February 28, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, NW Room 201
Washington, D.C. 20001

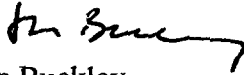

Dear Mr. Griffis:

I am writing you about BZA Application No, 17429, which is the application in behalf of St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School. I wholeheartedly endorse this application, as St. Patrick's is a tremendously vibrant addition to the neighborhood in which I live.

I am a parishioner of St. Patrick's and my son attends the school. Expanding St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School to become a high school would be a strong addition to the District of Columbia's roster of educational opportunities. Moreover, St. Patrick's is a good and thoughtful neighbor, and a great institution.

Please support this important project.

Sincerely,

John Buckley

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -7 AM 11:44

JOHN BUCKLEY

February 28, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, NW Room 201
Washington, D.C. 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR - 7 AM 11:44

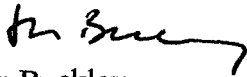

Dear Mr. Griffis:

I am writing you about BZA Application No, 17429, which is the application in behalf of St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School. I wholeheartedly endorse this application, as St. Patrick's is a tremendously vibrant addition to the neighborhood in which I live.

I am a parishioner of St. Patrick's and my son attends the school. Expanding St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School to become a high school would be a strong addition to the District of Columbia's roster of educational opportunities. Moreover, St. Patrick's is a good and thoughtful neighbor, and a great institution.

Please support this important project.

Sincerely,

John Buckley

February 23, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:41

Dear Chairman Griffis:

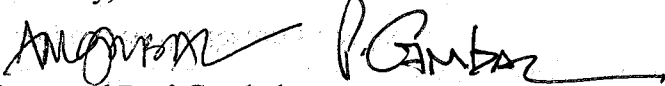

We're writing as neighbors of St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School and as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As parents, we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being members of the St. Patrick's community, we witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Anne and Paul Gambal
4907 Indian Lane, NW
Washington, DC 20016

Marsha D. Matthews
4320 Van Ness Street NW
Washington, DC 20016

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:41

Re: BZA Application No. 17249

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Marsha D. Matthews

Marta and Jorgen Halberg
5022 V Street, NW,
Washington, DC, 20007

February 26, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey H. Griffis, Chair
Board of Zoning Adjustment
One Judiciary Square
441 4th St., NW,
Washington, DC 20001

RE: BZA Application No. 17429

Dear Mr. Griffis:

We, my wife and I, are writing to ask for your support for BZA Application No. 17429, to allow St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School to build a combined Middle School and High School at 1801 Foxhall Road.

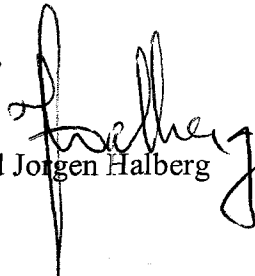

St. Patrick's currently offers education through 8th grade, and it would be a great benefit to the District of Columbia to have a middle/high school managed in the thoughtful way that St. Patrick's has demonstrated through its management of the current school. We know the school very well, as we live in the neighborhood of the school, and our two children have attended St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School; both our children started in the school's Nursery. Currently our daughter is in 5th grade at St. Patrick's and is ready to start in 6th grade in September.

We understand that we are one of many families who hope to let our children continue their education in the District of Columbia and we would welcome a combined Middle School and High School of the caliber that St. Patrick's plans to build at 1801 Foxhall Road. We hope that you, as an experienced urban and architectural designer will appreciate the plans.

Please, support St. Patrick's BZA application. The creation of a quality independent school in the District of Colombia is very important to us.

Sincerely,

Marta and Jorgen Halberg

2006 MAR -2 AM 11:26

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

RECEIVED

4949 Lowell Street, NW Washington DC

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 AM 11:26

February 28, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

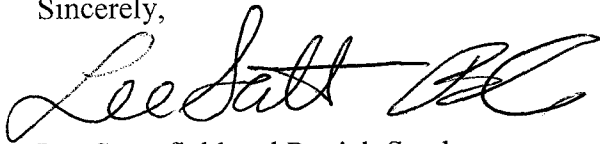

We are writing as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia.

We know from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As parents and parishioners we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, we are very aware of the commitment the school makes to service in the community. We fully support the establishment of the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children.

Sincerely,

Lee Satterfield and Patrick Steel

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 AM 11:26

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

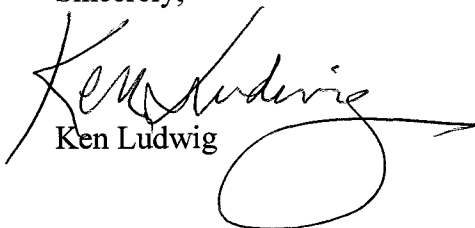

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Ken Ludwig

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 AM 11:27

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

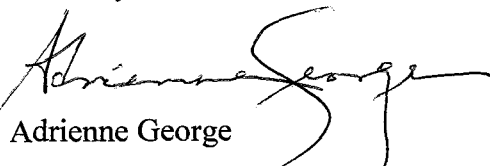

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Adrienne George

Audrey Zale Cramer
Vice Chairman

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

2006 MAR -2 AM 11: 27

Cushman & Wakefield of Washington, D. C., Inc.
1801 K Street NW
Suite 1100-L
Washington, DC 20006-1301
(202) 739 0380 Tel
(202) 296 1941 Fax
audrey_cramer@cushwake.com

February 27, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a member of the St. Patrick's community I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Audrey Z. Cramer", written over a horizontal line.

Audrey Z. Cramer

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Fralin
4525 Klinge Street, NW
Washington, DC 20016

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -2 AM 11:27

February 22, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As parents we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Kate and Bill Fralin

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 MAR -7 AM 11:47

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent and neighbor of the school, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Melinda H. Becker
4829 Bending Lane, NW
Washington, DC
20007

CAROLYN JOHNSON
4917 ROCKWOOD PARKWAY, NW
WASHINGTON, DC 20016

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

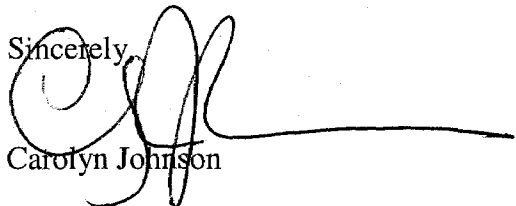

I'm writing as a long-time member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a past Board Chair, past parent, and current faculty member, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness daily a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

My sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Johnson

Michele Maxson
2217 46th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis, Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

February 27, 2006

Dear Chairman Griffis:

As a member of the Palisades/Foxhall community and ANC3D, I'd like to express my support for St. Patrick's and the Friends of St. Patrick's as they go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 for BZA Application 17429. I have lived at 2217 46th Street, NW since June, but have commuted to St. Patrick's for over two years. Thus, I am very aware of the traffic conditions along Foxhall Road, and, having been a part of the faculty of St. Patrick's, I can assure you that the planning for the 1801 Foxhall site has taken into consideration every possible scenario to limit the impact of such a project.

As a teacher and neighbor of St. Patrick's, I believe I can attest to the school's commitment to the Palisades community. The school has gone above and beyond the Board's requirements with respect to the MacArthur campus. School administrators, parents, and other faculty members are in constant communication with neighbors to ensure that St. Patrick's is an excellent neighbor in the Palisades community.

With regard to the school's desire to build a beautiful, aesthetic campus, the development committee has worked hard to preserve as many trees as possible. In addition, the school has taken extreme measures to design traffic alleviation plans so that the proposed construction and subsequent high school will not negatively impact the environs.

I realize that the Palisades area has been no stranger to campus expansion, with the Field School and GW Mount Vernon Campus as its neighbors. However, having the opportunity to have such beautiful campuses as models will only serve to help the community and St. Patrick's as it endeavors to build a quality campus that will contribute to the community in the years to come. Imagine having a high school with strong ties to the community. Teaching tomorrow's leaders in a community such as this will only serve to strengthen the community as a whole. St. Patrick's creed focuses on four core values: honesty, responsibility, kindness, and respect. I could not think of four better principles on which to build a high school dedicated to educating our youth.

It is with great pleasure that I write you to urge your support for St. Patrick's BZA 17429 application. Please take into consideration that the creation of a quality educational facility is as important as the neighbors who will benefit from this community venture. Thank you in advance for your support in tomorrow's discussion.

Sincerely,

Michele Maxson

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

2006 MAR -8 PM 2:44

Dear Chairman Griffis:

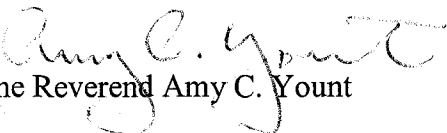

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent and faculty member, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

The Reverend Amy C. Yount

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

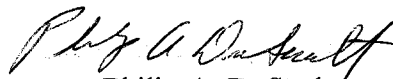

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, I believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, I am confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential area and a superb school campus that will, in fact, enhance the neighborhood.

As a former St. Patrick's parent and long time Northwest DC resident I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

My sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school it may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Philip A. DuSault
3811 Jocelyn St., Northwest

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
704 FEB 29 AM 9:26

Dear Chairman Griffis:

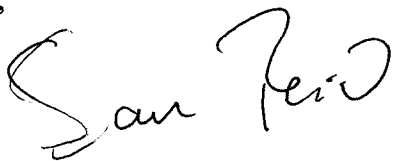

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:22

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community and long-time resident of the Palisades/Kent neighborhood in to ask for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent and District resident, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Linda Vitella
5501 Hawthorne Place, NW
Washington, DC 20016

Lisa G Rossi
3133 O Street NW
Washington, DC 20007

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:27

Dear Chairman Griffis:

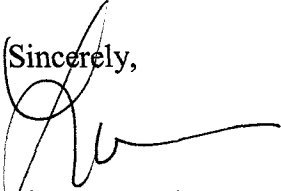

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia - where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Lisa G. Rossi

ST PATRICK'S HAS BEEN PROVEN ITSELF
TO ABIDE BY AGREEMENTS WITH THE NEIGHBORHOOD AND WITH THE CITY.
THIS IS AN AMAZING SCHOOL THAT REALLY
SHOULD HAVE A HIGH SCHOOL - LG Rossi

MICHAEL R. E. CARTER

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:27

Re: BZA Application No. 17429, St Patrick's School

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road.

St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent and parishioner, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community.

With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

My sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street NW, Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:29

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community to ask for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application (BZA Application No. 17429) to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road NW. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school and church so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road NW.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. At this point in the process, I am confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parishioner, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitment to community service. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I have witnessed a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road NW so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school and church into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Richard and Lisa White
5035 Macomb Street NW
Washington, DC 20016

Patricia and Jules Spector
4418 Davenport St., NW
Washington, DC 20016

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:23

Dear Chairman Griffis:

We are writing as 45-year residents of the District of Columbia and as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

We are well aware of St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being associated with the St. Patrick's community, we witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Patricia and Jules Spector

Patricia and Jules Spector

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:38

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia -- where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

William E. Timmons, Jr.

THE MUDD FAMILY

3542 Newark Street, NW
Washington, DC 20016
Telephone No.: (202) 237-6602
Fax No.: (202) 237-8366

February 23, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

2006 FEB 29 AM 9:28

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

RECEIVED

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Maura Mudd
Parent

DALE KEATS LIPNICK

February 22, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman, Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

2006 FEB 29 AM 9:28

RE: BZA Application No. 17429: Hearing February 28, 2006

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Dale Keats Lipnick

Richard J.M. Poulson
3321 R Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 22 AM 9:28

Dear Chairman Griffis:

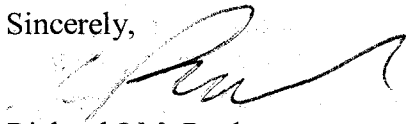

We are writing as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

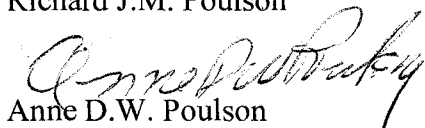

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As parents, and parishioners, we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, we have witnessed a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Richard J.M. Poulson

Anne D.W. Poulson

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:28

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

E.W. Hawkings
4332 Albemarle Street NW
Washington, DC 20016

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:29

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a [parent, parishioner, faculty member] I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Aranda Simmons

Aranda Simmons
4623 Kenmore Dr. N.W.
Washington, DC 20007
202-338-5147

Randa Breuer
4819 V. St. NW
Washington, DC 20007

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:29

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a faculty member I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Randa Breuer

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mulitz
2895 University Terrace, N.W.
Washington, DC 20016

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
DC BOARD OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:25

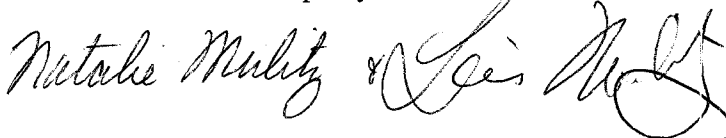

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a faculty member, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Lewis and Natalie Mulitz

Ms. Louise Hayes and Mr. Tom Tait
4622 Ellicott Street, NW
Washington, DC 20016

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:29

Dear Chairman Griffis:

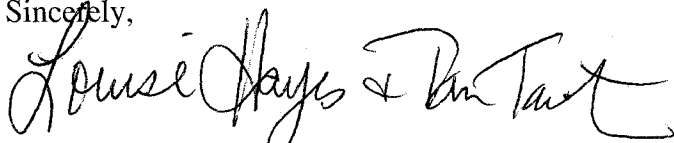

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a faculty member, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Louise Hayes and Tom Tait

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Wagner
4949 Linnean Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20008

February 23, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
FEB 27 2006 AM 9:29

Dear Chairman Griffis:

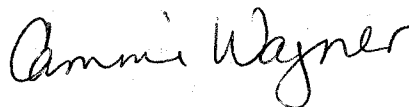

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a parent, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

 and
Todd and Cammi Wagner

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 29 AM 9:38

Dear Chairman Griffis:

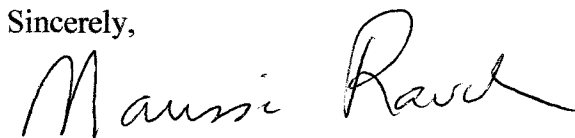

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a neighbor, and the parent of a Key School preschooler, I am well aware of the lack of choice for district residents at the middle school and high school level. St. Patrick's has been a good neighbor and I look forward to having the school at 1801 Foxhall Road as a neighbor as well. I love where I live and see the proposed project as wonderful addition to a fantastic neighborhood.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Marissa Rauch
4736 W Street NW

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Clark
4703 Woodway Lane, NW
Washington, DC 20016

RECEIVED
DC OFFICE OF ZONING
2006 FEB 27 AM 9:30

February 24, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a member of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, D.C., currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school- and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road.

I am confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property, St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As a faculty member, I would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being a member of the St. Patrick's community, I witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, I see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia – where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road so that as a school we may offer an exceptional alternative for families with middle school - and high school-aged children. In turn, St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Steve and Lacey Clark

5223 Watson Street, NW
Washington DC 20016

February 23, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street, NW, Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

Dear Chairman Griffis,

We are writing as members of the St. Patrick's Episcopal Church and Day School community asking for your support as we go before the Board of Zoning Adjustment on February 28 with our application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road, NW. St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School, with a fifty-year history in Washington, DC, currently educates children in Nursery through Grade 8. St. Patrick's is asking the BZA for approval of their plan to extend the mission of the school so that more families can choose to educate their middle school and high school-aged children in the District of Columbia. This application also includes approval of a residential neighborhood at 1801 Foxhall Road, NW

We are confident that from the very early planning stages for the use of the property St. Patrick's has incorporated the features needed to provide our community with a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. Having witnessed the progression of the plans for the 1801 Foxhall property school campus and residential neighborhood, we believe every possible scenario has been explored, assessed, and presented. At this point in the process, we are confident that St. Patrick's has achieved its desired goal of creating a quality residential neighborhood and a superb school campus.

As past parents and currently grandparents we would like to speak to St. Patrick's unwavering commitments at the student, academic, and community service levels. Being members of the St. Patrick's community, we witness a sincere dedication to the students' moral and spiritual growth and to their active participation in service to others. This commitment is evident in an abiding concern for the quality of our shared life in this place and for service to the wider community. With all the challenges facing older children, we see the need for establishing the only co-educational Episcopal high school in the District of Columbia - where the underlying principle is to nourish each child's growth toward personal integrity and a lifetime of service.

Our sincere hope is that you will approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road, NW so that as a school an exceptional alternative may be offered for families with middle school and high school-aged children. In turn, we know that St. Patrick's will take this stewardship beyond the bounds of the school into the community at large.

Sincerely,

Marguerite and William R. Haley

2006 FEB 27 AM 9:30

D.C. OFFICE OF ZONING

RECEIVED

Amy L. Bondurant
1340 31st Street NW
Washington, DC 20007

February 21, 2006

Mr. Geoffrey Griffis
Chairman
Board of Zoning Adjustment
441 Fourth Street. N.W. Room 201
Washington, DC 20001

RECEIVED
D.C. BOARD OF ZONING
FEB 29 AM 9:39

Dear Chairman Griffis:

I'm writing as a DC resident and parent of a child attending Saint Patrick's Episcopal School. I seek your support as the Board of Zoning Adjustment considers the application, BZA Application No. 17429, to build a middle school and high school at 1801 Foxhall Road.

As a parent, I would like to speak to the integrity and commitment of the St. Patrick's administrative staff and faculty. These outstanding people work to ensure that each child succeeds and not just academically. They are dedicated to the student's moral and spiritual growth and to his or her active participation in service to others.

As a D.C. resident with a child who will soon enter high school, I am acutely aware of the great need in the District for more high school educational alternatives. Saint Patrick's high school would be unique as a co-educational Episcopal high school in the District. Though the high school would not be completed in time for my child to attend, I am writing because I am convinced that this unique high school would continue Saint Patrick's distinguished tradition of motivating students to be better citizens.

Please approve St. Patrick's application at 1801 Foxhall Road. Expanding such a fine institution will benefit not only District families seeking middle and high school educational alternatives but also surely the greater community as well.

Sincerely,

Amy L. Bondurant
U.S. Ambassador (Ret.)