

Steven R. White AIA, LEED AP BD+C
Principal and DC Studio Director | Fentress Architects

Steve White has passionately focused on connecting historic buildings with new structures in urban environments. The creative use of scale, proportion, materials, and forms has resulted in thoughtfully knitted city blocks and rich architectural compositions contributing to the experience of the city. Steve's expertise with demanding and historic contexts includes multiple agency reviews with the Commission of Fine Arts, the National Capital Planning Commission, and the National Park Service, as well as state and local community groups and international agencies.

Steve has over 25 years of experience designing courthouse, public, museum, office, academic, and residential projects in historically sensitive environments. He is an academic juror and lecturer for Catholic University of America, Washington, DC; University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland; and North Carolina State University, Raleigh, North Carolina. His work has been featured in Architect Magazine, The Washington Post, The Denver Post, Traditional Building Magazine, Greensource Magazine, and the AIA Justice Facilities Review.
