

NORTH NCAPITOL MAIN STREET

November 16, 2018

To Whom It May Concern:

As Executive Director of the North Capitol Main Street Organization, I strongly support Jam Doung, a family owned carryout that has been on North Capitol Street for over 18 years. Jam Doung was the first to open a restaurant on the corridor that offers something other than Chinese food. When their doors first opened, we were delighted to have a double minority restaurant that brings diversity in cuisine and ownership. Jam Doung offers authentic Jamaican cuisine in a partition free, family friendly atmosphere. One of their top sellers are the Jerk Turkeys. Customers tell us they cannot imagine Thanksgiving without their services.

Jam Doung employs 10 DC Residents of which, three are ex-offenders. These positions have transformed the lives of returning citizen and provided them with a wonderful opportunity. In addition, Jam Doung hosts an Annual Turkey giveaway and invests in the community in countless ways. They also have been great friends to the Main Street Organisation and have always donated food, time and attention to promoting our corridor.

North Capitol Main Street also supports Jam Doung's decision to move from 1726 North Capitol to 1724 North Capitol. This move will be fantastic for our community as it will allow Jam Doung to accommodate it's growing customer base which will increase foot traffic on the corridor. Jam Doung is a favorite for many visitors to the city who are looking for authentic Jamaican food from actors and musicians to athletes including players from both the Washington Wizards and Redskins. They have also received the Key to the Corridor Award for outstanding service and partnership with our community and received the 1st Place Chili Challenge Award in 2017 with their amazing jerk chili as a clear standout in the friendly competition.

We are grateful to have Jam Doung in our corridor and would like to keep them here for many more years.

Sincerely,

Aisha Bond
Executive Director.
