

I think this is a sensitive addition to increase the liveability of the neighborhood. The home in question is one of the nicest on the block and is always well kept and a joy to walk by. These are important folks to keep in the neighborhood as they add to the positive value of the neighborhood. So many additions are big just to be big and add out of character with buldging third floors. They are making a simple request to make it liveable to them and many other families while still keeping the soul of the neighborhood intact.

I strongly support their request and hope that it is granted to them.
