

Email: bzasubmissions@dc.gov

Public Hearing 2/5/25 at 9:30am

Case Number: 21239

Case Name: Mr. & Mrs. John Hayman

February 3rd, 2025

Although I can not attend this virtual hearing on the 5th, I've looked into the house in question. I can not see why this person would receive a special exception. The two houses are too close to each other and with the repairs, the other home is closest to if not over, the property line. No one should be subjected to having their property under siege because of the construction of someone else's home. There should be no special exception to this claim. If more property was needed for the construction/ renovations, there was another side to the house that could have been used. Additional property could have been purchased. Instead, they are demanding that they receive a portion of their neighbors' property for the accommodation of the construction of their own home. There should be no special exception for this.

Respectfully,

Darlene Murrell
3311 Brothers Place SE
Washington, DC 20032