

36

4 comments

 Like

 Comment

 Repost

 Send

You sold the company to yourself and ran it out of business. I normally wouldn't care, but what you did was unethical. Once you ran out of money you didn't care about your employees, and I had to help an investor who was suing you (for self-dealing) to help pay the remaining employees who worked. Hourly employees who live paycheck to paycheck, were ignored by you once the company couldn't pay your salary.

Posting on LinkedIn pretending to be a some kind of amazing leader is a joke. You destroyed countless lives, put franchisees in a horrible situation and most of all are responsible for the reason why all Oath corporate locations have closed.

Post

Most relevant ▾