

Eastern Avenue Relocation Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1. Why do I need to move out of my apartment?

Your apartment community is scheduled for a full renovation and rebuild. To complete this safely and efficiently, all residents will need to temporarily relocate while construction takes place.

2. How long will I be relocated?

At this time, the relocation period is expected to be extended. The exact timeline will depend on construction progress, which we will communicate as soon as it is finalized.

3. Who will help me during this process?

Equally Crafted Management (ECM) has been engaged to assist residents throughout the relocation process. Our team will be your main point of contact and will guide you every step of the way—from housing searches to coordinating moves and answering your questions.

4. Will someone help me find a new place to live?

Yes. ECM will work with each household individually to identify suitable housing alternatives that meet your needs. We'll review available options with you and help make the process as smooth as possible.

5. Will I be responsible for moving expenses?

No. The relocation process, including moving assistance, is being coordinated and funded as part of the project. ECM will arrange professional movers and, if needed, provide packing supplies such as boxes and tape to make your move easier.

6. Will I be able to return to the community after construction?

Our goal is to keep residents informed and supported throughout this process. While the community will be completely rebuilt, options to return will be discussed once construction details and new housing plans are finalized. ECM will share all available options with residents as soon as more information is confirmed.

7. Will there be any financial assistance or alternative options available?

Yes. Residents will be presented with different housing and assistance options as part of the relocation plan. These may include various choices depending on individual circumstances. More information will be provided once those details are finalized.

8. When will I find out more about my specific relocation plan?

Malonta from the ECM team will be stopping by in the coming days to conduct one-on-one interviews with each household. During these meetings, you'll have the opportunity to review your household's needs, discuss available housing options, and ask any questions you may have.
