Re: The George Washington University Health & Wellness Center; Application No. 02-26

Dear Ms. Mitten:

Our client, The George Washington University, asked us to respectfully request, again, that the Commission issue the final order in the above-referenced case, decided by the Commission on June 14, 2004.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jerry A. Moore III

Re: The George Washington University Health & Wellness Center; Application No. 02-26

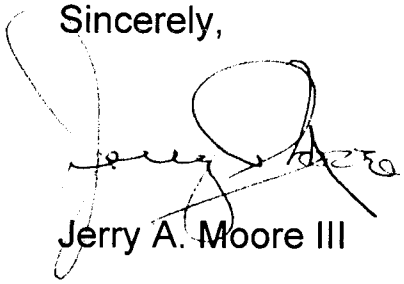

Dear Ms. Mitten:

At its monthly meeting on June 14, 2004, the D.C. Zoning Commission voted to approve our client, The George Washington University's, application for a Special Exception to extend the hours and broaden the membership categories at the Lerner Health & Wellness Center. This case was filed in September 2002 and was first heard by the Commission at a public hearing on December 2, 2002. Thus, this case has been pending in the Zoning Commission for over 2 years.

Our client is mindful that this case has presented the Commission with multiple challenges, including litigation, that have delayed the final resolution of this matter far beyond a reasonable time. Nonetheless, the final disposition of this application remains important to the University. That disposition, of course, cannot be had until a final order is issued. Please turn the Commission's attention to this task at your first opportunity.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jerry A. Moore III
