

STATEMENT OF: Rosemary Jarvis
Zoning Commission Hearing, Thursday, Nov 15, 2007

My name is Rosemary Jarvis – I live in apt. 801 at The Remington and am the president of the condominium Association. Our building has 52 apt. and has no gym facilities. We are directly behind new student housing building and are across the street from the Wellness Center.

We bought our apt. in 1986 and have watched Foggy Bottom change, some times with trepidation. Initially I was hesitant about the new GW dormitory as a neighbor, and the kind of changes that could make. As you can well imagine the idea of having 700 students directly behind our building did not seem an ideal situation. I am please to report we have had no issues with the University and the students and find them to be good neighbors just as the University promised when the building was proposed.

When the Wellness Center was under construction the University offered our building access to its facilities and we were thrilled. We were disappointed when their request was denied by the zoning commission. We are hoping you will now allow us and other adjacent properties use of facility and allow the University to fulfill their commitment to us. We do not see how our access to the Wellness Center could inconvenience any of our Foggy Bottom neighbors

ZONING COMMISSION
District of Columbia

CASE NO. 02-26A

EXHIBIT NO. 33
ZONING COMMISSION
District of Columbia
CASE NO.02-26A
EXHIBIT NO.33