Re: Gallaudet University--Case No. 03-02A

Dear Members of the Zoning Commission,

The Gallaudet Community Relations Council (GCRC) is comprised of representatives of the University and a number of community organizations surrounding the Gallaudet University campus. The goal of the GCRC is to promote communication and cooperation between the University and the surrounding community.

At its January 2010 monthly meeting, the GCRC heard a presentation by representatives of the University regarding the proposal to convert Denison House from administrative use back to residential use. The representatives explained that this residential use will be for honor students who are engaged in self-developed interdisciplinary programs, and that each semester, Denison House will be occupied by up to 12 students and a faculty advisor. Teams of students will compete for the opportunity to live in Denison House. The GCRC understands that this program will require an amendment the Campus Plan and a further processing under the Campus Plan to allow this use conversion to occur.

After the presentation, and after a full opportunity for questions and discussion, the community representative members of the GCRC voted unanimously to support the application.

Sincerely,

Gallaudet Community Relations Council
