assessment tool designed to capture preliminary data regarding the program and service needs of current residents. The survey team was very diligent in its efforts to collect data from each of the 700 occupied households. Over a 10-day period, the survey team reached 384 (55 percent) Arthur Capper Family, Arthur Capper Senior, and Carrollsburg Family residents. Howard University analyzed survey data. Based on the sample size, the results of the needs assessment gave an accurate representation of the needs of the entire population Seniors, individuals with disabilities, adults, young adults, adolescents, and children all participated. Survey results, which provided invaluable information to DCHA, were used to develop the framework of the CSS plan. Figure F.1 provides a sample of survey results, the types of services needed by the Arthur Capper/Carrollsburg residents, and the services proposed through the CSS workplan.

Achievement of Goals and Objectives Lead to Outcomes of the CSS Plan

The plan's program goals and objectives are designed to achieve a workable, results-oriented program that meets the needs of all 700 public housing families currently residing at Arthur Capper/Carrollsburg. The program is being designed to serve everyone, regardless of whether they are expected to return to the redeveloped community, and to other low-income residents who will reside in the revitalized neighborhood.

Based on identified needs, the program goals and objectives of the CSS program are as follows: to offer 700 (100 percent) current Capper/Carrollsburg residents access to participation in CSS activities, by establishing a Resident Outreach Program. To meet a 90 percent threshold as the standard milestone for compliance as a measure of efforts to determine eligibility, service delivery, data gathering, and outcome reporting and compliance, by implementing a standardized case management approach. To enroll a minimum of 80 percent (560) of current
