Subject: RE: AT Permits

I had an interesting conversation with my permit expeditor this morning. He checked the permit status of AT's application and found, that while a permit application had been filled out as reported by Cody there were no plans submitted nor was there a third party review request noted. Just in case the plan desk had misplaced the paperwork he checked the plan review room to confirm that plans were not there. As expected no plans in the plan review room.
What this appears to mean is that AT is trying to get in before the Zoning regs. take affect.
