11/4/13 Testimony of Barbara Kahlow
on ZC Case No. 08-06A – The Zoning Regulations Review (ZRR)

I, Barbara Kahlow, live at 800 25th Street, N.W. I am testifying on behalf of the West End Citizens Association (WECA), the oldest citizens organization in the Foggy Bottom-West End area of Ward 2. The WECA is primarily interested in maintaining and improving the quality of life for the existing residential community in Foggy Bottom-West End.

Before the October 28, 2013 deadline for written testimony on the Zoning Regulations Review (ZRR), the WECA submitted 7-pages of detailed comments captioned “WECA’s Section-by-Section Comments.” They were presented as Procedural Issues followed by Substantive Issues. And, the Substantive Issues were presented in this order: Subtitle A, Subtitle B, Subtitle I, Subtitle X, Subtitles X & Z, Subtitle Y, Subtitle Z, and Other Subtitles. Your hearing Notice asked for tonight’s oral testimony to address Subtitles A, W, X, Y, and Z. However, since I do not intend to testify at the Commission’s other six hearings this week and next week (e.g., on November 14th on Subtitle I, Downtown Zones), I am available tonight to answer Commissioner questions on issues identified in the WECA’s advance submission regarding the other Subtitles.

The WECA testified at or submitted written statements for the following Zoning Commission hearings on ZRR: (a) July 12, 2007 (appended to the WECA’s advance submission); (b) September 22, 2010 on height; (c) October 4, 2010 on Planned Unit Developments (PUDs) (attached to today’s testimony); and (d) November 8, 2011 on administrative amendments (ZC Case. No. 12-11). Are all four of these testimonies already in the ZC No. 08-06A case record? If not, I would be happy to supply copies for today’s case record. The WECA also participated in five of OP’s ZRR Working Groups: Height, Retail Strategy, Campus/Institutional, PUD, and Administration and Enforcement. The Commission did not hold a followup hearing on Campus/Institutional issues.

Lastly, the WECA testified at three City Council Committee of the Whole hearings on ZRR and the Office of Planning (OP): October 5, 2012; March 3, 2013; and July 2, 2013. Are these testimonies already in your case record? If not, I would be happy to supply copies for today’s case record.

Tonight, I will briefly cover Procedural Issues followed by Substantive Issues.

Procedural Issues

Possibly sounding like a broken record, I want to reiterate the following WECA recommendations: (a) that the Zoning Commission require OP to produce a redlined version, (b) that the Zoning Commission require OP to produce an identification of and explanation for each and every substantive change for public review and before any Commission vote on the proposed text, and (c) that the Commission continue the current easy-to-understand-and-use zoning categories since the WECA opposes OP’s proposed very complex replacement zones, e.g., from 3 to 20 low density residential zones. An identification of and explanation for all substantive changes is essential. My review of the setdown ZRR text was frustrating, time-consuming, and, frankly, unable-to-be-completed without this essential aid. It is unreasonable to ask the public to search the current zoning provisions and enacted Comprehensive Plan protections and then compare them with OP's proposed ZRR text.

Substantive Issues

The most serious substantive issue for Foggy Bottom-West End is OP's attempt to redefine large parts of our neighborhood (including where long-term and short-term residents reside) as being part of the Downtown. The WECA repeatedly and successfully fought to contain the boundaries of the Central Employment Area (CEA) and contends that a change in law is required before OP's redefinition (including its expanded Transferable Development Rights (TDRs) receiving zones) can be legally included in ZRR. I raised this issue in OP's December 13, 2012 ZRR public meeting in Anacostia and was assured by the OP Director during the question-answer period that ZRR would not include any language inconsistent with current law.

On a related matter, the WECA opposes OP's new allowable increases in density, percent non-residential uses, and height for PUDs. In addition, since much of the West End is zoned C-2-C, OP's automatic height increase from 90 feet to 110 feet in C-2-C zones would dramatically change the character of this mixed use area.

The next most important substantive issue is OP's proposed revised rules governing future acceptable PUD benefits and amenities. Attached to today's testimony is another copy of my October 4, 2010 testimony for the WECA on this issue. The WECA's view is based on long-term successful experience identifying and negotiating substantial and appropriate PUD amenities for our neighborhood, most of which do not include upgrades of public land or governmental services which the WECA believes should be paid by taxpayer funds, not developers. The WECA strongly recommends that the Commission continue to allow the identification of non-public PUD benefits and amenities which are desired for the immediately impacted community.

The WECA assisted the Foggy Bottom and West End Advisory Neighborhood Commission (ANC-2A) in its evaluation of ZRR and the WECA requests that the Zoning Commission give "great weight" to ANC-2A's October 16, 2013 ZRR resolution.

Lastly, the WECA asks the Commission to require OP to add the coverage areas for ZRR which the WECA recommended on July 12, 2007 but which are not yet addressed in OP's ZRR. For example, they include: (a) identification of governing provisions for omnibus PUDs (especially for campus plans), (b) clarification of sequencing for the DC Environmental Policy Act, and (c) clarification of sequencing with other review agencies.

Thank you for your consideration of the WECA's views.

WECA's Section-by-Section Comments

PROCEDURAL ISSUES

- Redlined version -- The Office of Planning (OP) has not yet released a redlined version, as in traditional in governmental rulemakings, of its proposed Zoning Regulations Review (ZRR) “supersede in full” document for the entirety of the existing zoning rules so that the WECA and other community groups can thoughtfully and thoroughly review each of the proposed textual changes (Subtitle A, §100.1).
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission require OP to produce a redlined version.
- Explanations -- OP has also not yet released explanations, as in traditional in governmental rulemakings, for each of the proposed policy and textual changes in its proposed ZRR so that the WECA and other community groups can thoughtfully consider each of the proposed changes.
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission require OP to produce an identification of and explanation for all substantive changes for public review.
- Complexity -- As shown in OP’s 5-page “Zone Name Conversion Table” which precedes Subtitle A in the setdown version, OP’s proposal adds a dramatically expanded list of zoning categories, e.g., instead of the current R-1, R-2, and R-3 (i.e., 3) zones, there will be 20 low-density residential zones (newly called R-1 to R-20). A second example is the complicated “Zone Reference Table” for mixed use zones (currently SP, C, CR and W), which ran 8 detailed pages in the last version but which does not seem to be included in the setdown version even though it is referenced in multiple places in the setdown text.
 - The WECA opposes this unnecessary increase in complexity and recommends that the Zoning Commission instead continue the current zoning categories.

SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

Subtitle A – Authority & Applicability

- Penalties
 - Penalties for violations are limited to $100 per day (Subtitle A, §305, p. A-21).
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission increase the penalty level so that it will act as a deterrent to noncompliance.

Subtitle B – Definitions

- Planned Unit Development (PUD)
 - The definition of a PUD “in one (1) or more districts” does not mention a requirement for contiguity of Squares (Subtitle B, p. B-20).
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission amend OP’s proposed definition to include a requirement for contiguity of Squares in any PUD, including an “omnibus” PUD.

Subtitle I – Downtown Zones

- Expansion of the Central Employment Area (CEA) in Foggy Bottom-West End
 - The statutorily-set boundaries of the CEA in Foggy Bottom-West End are “east on the E Street Expressway and E Street, N.W. to 19th Street, N.W., north along 19th Street, N.W., to F Street, N.W., west on F Street, N.W. to 20th Street, N.W., to Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., west along Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., to 21st Street, N.W., north along 21st Street, N.W. to M Street, N.W., east along M Street, N.W. to 20th Street, N.W. to New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., and northeast along New Hampshire Avenue, N.W. to Dupont Circle on the west.”
 - ANC-2A and Foggy Bottom-West End community groups successfully fought boundary exclusions from the statutory CEA definition area, as reflected in the 1994 and 1999 Comprehensive Plan Amendment Acts, to ensure that Environmental Impact Statements would be required for five possible development sites (the old Associated General Contractors PUD at 1957 E Street, the old Red Cross National Capital Chapter at 2025 E Street, the now International Finance Corporation from Pennsylvania Avenue to K Street between 21st and 22nd, the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) at 23rd and E, and the PAHO support building at 2121 Virginia) and the entire George Washington University (GWU) Campus Plan area.
 - OP’s proposal effectively expands the statutory boundaries for the CEA into the West End (e.g., in some Squares from West of 21st Street to 22nd Street and from North of Pennsylvania Avenue to M Street) without an accompanying statutory amendment to effectively expand the “downtown” (see Subtitle I-58, Figure 4, “All Streets in Downtown Zones with Designated Street Segments”).
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission not expand the CEA into more of Foggy Bottom-West End, especially into Squares which include current residents.
- Expansion of Transferable Development Rights (TDRs) in Foggy Bottom-West End
 - The current zoning rules for TDRs (which increase allowable density and allowable height, including for PUDs) at 11 DCMR § 1709.16 state, “The New Downtown receiving zone consists of the C-3-C zoned portions of Squares numbered 72 through 73, 74, 76, 78, 85, 86, 99, 100, and 116 through 118” in the West End.
 - OP’s proposal expands TDRs into additional Squares in the West End and into some Squares in Foggy Bottom (South of Pennsylvania Avenue) by its proposed Credit Trade Areas which far exceed the 12 Squares in the West End which are included in the current TDR receiving zone rules (see Subtitle I-110, Figure 20).
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission not expand TDRs into more of Foggy Bottom-West End.

Subtitle X – General Procedures

- Planned Unit Development (PUD) Benefits and Amenities (Subtitle X, pp. 17-26)
 - Subtitle X §§300.1(b), 300.5, 304.4 (b), and 305.6 require “public benefits” (i.e., without mention of project amenities); whereas, §304.3, 304.4(c), and 305.1 require “public benefits and project amenities.” §305 addresses in more detail public benefits. §305.3(d) states, “Monetary contributions shall only be permitted if made to a District government program OR if the applicant agrees that no certificate of occupancy for the PUD may be issued unless the applicant provides proof to the Zoning Administrator that the items or services funded have been or are being provided” (emphasis added).
 - §305.5(s) provides, “Other public benefits and project amenities and other ways in which the proposed PUD substantially advances ... the Comprehensive Plan.” Further, §305.6 provides, “Public benefits other than those listed above may be proposed to and considered by the Commission.”
 - §305.4 paraphrases a statutory requirement (but without reference to the statutory provision), stating “A majority of public benefits of the proposed PUD should related to the geographic area of the ANC in which the application is proposed.”
 - The WECA recommends addition of “and project amenities” in §§300.1(b), 300.5, 304.4(b), and 305.6.
 - The WECA supports inclusion of the alternative in §305.3(d) for monetary contributions for non-District government programs; i.e., for other items or services appropriate and needed for the directly-affected community. Over the years, the WECA has been responsible for inclusion of amenity funds for many needed items and services in the Foggy Bottom-West End community. As a consequence, the WECA strongly supports the inclusion of §§305.5(s) and 305.6.
 - Since “Majority” is not equivalent to “substantial” and since “the geographic area of the ANC” is not equivalent to the “community in which the PUD would have an impact,” the WECA recommends that the exact statutory language be used instead of the paraphrased version in §305.4. The statute provides, “Location of PUD amenities. Require that a substantial part of the amenities proposed in Planned Unit Developments (PUDs) shall accrue to the community in which the PUD would have an impact.”
- Zoning Commission (ZC) Action on PUDs – Subtitle X §§300.6, 304.1, and 308.16 respectively state, “The Commission may approve a PUD application with or without modifications”; “The Commission will evaluate and approve, disapprove, or modify a PUD application”; and “The Commission shall either approve, deny, or modify the application.” (Subtitle X, pp. 17, 23, and 34)
 - The WECA strongly supports these provisions since the Zoning Commission should be able to approve modifications to a PUD application.

- Contiguity – Subtitle X §§301.3, 301.4, and 301.5 require that the property in a PUD “shall be contiguous.” (Subtitle X, p. 19)
 - The WECA supports these provisions and requests that provisions governing “omnibus” PUDs be added in all three subsections.
- PUDs and Increases in density, % non-residential uses, and height
 - For PUDs, OP proposed: (a) increased Floor Area Ratio (FAR) density (“the Commission may increase total FAR ... by no more than twenty percent (20%) of the zone district associated with the PUD. As part of the twenty percent (20%) increase, the Commission may increase the FAR for non-residential uses by no more than thirty-four percent (34%) of the matter-of-right non-residential FAR permitted within the zone district associated with the PUD) (see §303.3 in Subtitle X-20) and (b) an unjustified increase in the height limit in C-2-C zones from 90 feet to 110 feet (see Table on Subtitle X-21), including areas within Foggy Bottom-West End.
 - OP’s proposed definition of PUD and its proposed provisions governing PUDs (see Subtitle B-20 and Subtitle X-17-41) do not include any provisions covering “omnibus” PUDs, including an increase in maximum FAR for a Campus Plan (e.g., from 3.5 to 4.5) omnibus PUD; however, §§301.3-301.5 in Subtitle X-19 do mention necessary contiguity for PUDs.
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission not allow for increases in currently allowable density, percent non-residential uses, and height in Foggy Bottom-West End and define and state governing provisions for “omnibus” PUDs.
- Applicant Identification of PUD Changes made for the Community
 - Subtitle X §307.8(d) requires, “The applicant shall also indicate what meetings or discussions were held with the community and the OP as well as any changes that resulted from community input” (Subtitle X- 31).
 - The WECA supports this identification provision and thinks that it will assist the Zoning Commission in its questioning of the Applicant before the communities have had an opportunity to present their views in opposition.
- OP Identification of Community PUD Concerns
 - Subtitle X §308.5(d) requires OP to report on “Issues or concerns raised by the ANC or community members” (Subtitle X-33).
 - The WECA supports this requirement, especially because OP does not routinely reach out to the WECA pre- or post-setdown and usually does not even mention issues in its reports which were cited in WECA’s letters requesting “Party” status.

- Maximum PUD Extensions

- Subtitle X §311.3 provides, “An approved PUD may receive no more than two extensions” (Subtitle X-37).
 - The WECA supports this new maximum and thinks that no more than two extensions should apply to BZA approvals as well.

- Applicant Views of PUD Party Status Requests

- Subtitle X §317.4 provides, “The applicant may appear at the public meeting of the Commission’s consideration to object to the request or my submit written response to the party status request which will be considered by the Commission at the public hearing” (Subtitle X-41).
 - The WECA supports this provision and thinks that it would have avoided the Zoning Commission’s granting party status to an inappropriate group and the Zoning Commission’s not granting party status to the WECA in a specific PUD case that was later unsuccessfully litigated by the inappropriate group (ZC No. 11-12).

Subtitles X & Z – Modifications

- OP’s proposed provisions unfairly allows a “modification of consequence” for a PUD without a public hearing (“A modification of consequence, including but not limited to a proposed change to a condition cited by the Commission in the final order ... the Commission may consider a modification of consequence by proposed action with no additional public hearing” at §312.6(b) in Subtitle X-38) and also for non-PUDs (see §705.9(b) in Subtitle Z-45).
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission require public hearings for all “modifications of consequence” to zoning Orders, including for PUDs and Campus Plans.

Subtitle Y – BZA Procedures

- Party Status (Subtitle Y-31)

- Subtitle Y §404.2 allows “any party may file a response to a request for party status.”
 - The WECA supports this provision and believes that such input might prove helpful to the BZA.
- Subtitle Y §404.4 provides, “In granting party status, the Board may specify whether the person will be permitted to participate as a party for general or limited purposes.”

- The WECA questions what “a party for ... limited purposes” means and strongly objects to this unfair restriction on the rights of the directly affected. For example, would limitations affect cross examination?
- Subtitle Y §404.5 allows the BZA to “make any other orders ... including but not limited to prohibiting a person who is granted party status from introducing designated matters in evidence.”
- The WECA strongly objects to this unfair restriction on the rights of the directly affected. In fact, the WECA had to file suit (and win at the DC Court of Appeals) because of such a BZA restriction (in BZA No. 18031).
- Extensions (Subtitle Y-59)
 - Subtitle Y §706.2 provides, “A time extension granted pursuant to Y §706.1 shall not exceed two (2) years.”
 - The WECA recommends the addition of a maximum number of extensions, as in Subtitle X §311.2 for PUDs. An Officer of the WECA participated in a BZA case (BZA No. 15461) with multiple extensions which unfairly left the community with a vacant and blighted property for many years.

Subtitle Z – ZC Procedures

- Subtitle Z §405.2 changes the requirement that OP “shall” to “may” include in its setdown reports written reports from all relevant agencies, especially the District Department of Transportation (DDOT) (Subtitle Z-22).
 - The WECA does not support the change from “shall” to “may” since DDOT reports are critical in evaluation of most PUDs in Foggy Bottom-West End.
- Subtitle Z §§405.5(e) and 405.6(b) require OP reports to include “Issues or concerns raised by the ANC or community members” (Subtitle Z-23).
 - As indicated above under OP Identification of Community PUD Concerns and for Subtitle X §308.5(d), the WECA supports this requirement, especially because OP does not routinely reach out to the WECA and usually does not even mention issues in its reports which were cited in WECA’s letters requesting “Party” status.
- Subtitle Z §706.5 provides, “An applicant with an approved PUD may request no more than two (2) extensions. The second request for an extension may be approved for no more than one (1) year” (Subtitle Z-46).
 - As indicated above under Maximum PUD Extensions and for Subtitle X §311.2 and for Subtitle Y §706.2, the WECA supports this new maximum and thinks that no more than two extensions should apply to BZA approvals.

- Subtitle Z §1200.7(e) for Campus Plans provides, “The applicant shall also indicate what meetings or discussions were held with the Office of Planning, the affected ANC and other individuals and community groups concerning the proposed development, as well as any changes that resulted from these meetings or discussions” (Subtitle Z, pp. 61-2).
 - The WECA supports this identification of changes made for the community and thinks that it will assist the Zoning Commission in its questioning of the Applicant before the communities have had an opportunity to present their views in opposition.

Other Subtitles

- OP proposed changes in the requirements for minimum and maximum parking spaces which could adversely affect some future developments in Foggy Bottom-West End.
 - The WECA requests that the Zoning Commission not change the requirements for parking spaces in Foggy Bottom-West End.
- OP’s proposal continues not to address longstanding WECA recommendations for areas needing regulatory attention in the ZRR text. Please refer to the WECA’s July 12, 2007 testimony at the Commission’s “Roundtable regarding the Existing Zoning Regulations” in which the WECA identified five areas needing regulatory attention (see attached). For example, these two areas are not addressed at all in OP’s proposed ZRR text:
 - Clarification of sequencing for the DC Environmental Policy Act
 - Clarification of sequencing with other review agencies

10/4/10 Testimony of Barbara Kahlow
on ZC Case No. 08-06-12 – Comprehensive Zoning Regulations Review: PUDs

I, Barbara Kahlow, live at 800 25th Street, N.W. I am testifying on behalf of the West End Citizens Association (WECA), the oldest citizens organization in the Foggy Bottom-West End area of Ward 2. The WECA is primarily interested in maintaining and improving the quality of life for the existing residential community in Foggy Bottom-West End.

My Professional Qualifications and Related Subject Matter Expertise

I hereby provide some background information for the Commission. During my career of professional responsibilities, I spent 25 years at the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), primarily involved in regulatory policy development. During that service, I chaired multiple interagency (involving 20+ agencies) policy development initiatives. As a signature accomplishment, I created the government-wide “common rule” mechanism for regulatory relief whereby each agency codifies identical regulatory language in its part of the Code of Federal Regulations. After OMB, I served in Congress for seven years, retiring as Staff Director of the House Government Reform Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs. This was the only Subcommittee in either chamber devoted to regulatory process and policy.

I have been recognized by the Zoning Commission as an expert witness in the regulatory process in hearings dating back to the early 1990s, as reflected in the records. It is from this perspective in which I will be discussing the regulatory policy development process employed by DC’s Office of Planning (OP) in its “Comprehensive Zoning Regulations Review” and then the substance of tonight’s hearing relating to Planned Unit Developments (PUDs). Also, since 1991, I have participated in a dozen or more PUDs.

Regulatory Development Process

I bring to your attention that I have never participated in a regulatory development process with less respect for the public’s comments. In the Federal Executive Branch, standard regulatory policy development, under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), requires each agency to identify each substantive public comment and the agency’s explanation for inclusion in full or in part or rejection. DC’s regulatory development practice does not require such rigor or intellectual integrity.

To date, I have participated in five of OP’s “Comprehensive Zoning Regulations Review” Working Groups: Height, Retail Strategy, Campus/Institutional, PUD, and Administration and Enforcement. In all five, most public comments¹, including all of WECA’s relating to PUDs, were largely ignored by OP. This includes WECA’s two major PUD issues:

- (a) DC’s policy for future “omnibus” PUDs, such as the George Washington University’s 20 non-contiguous Squares “omnibus” PUD for its campus plan which was used to bypass the protective cumulative floor area ratio (FAR) cap for colleges and universities

¹ The prime exception was the first meeting of the Administration and Enforcement Working Group, which was chaired by the Office of Zoning (OZ) instead of OP. In this meeting, OZ requested public input in four areas (Pre-Hearing Procedures, Hearing Procedures, Post-Hearing Procedures, and Administrative Items) and I am confident that our comments will be taken into account.

in 11 DCMR §210.3 (“In R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, R-5-A, and R-5-B Districts, ... the total bulk of all buildings and structures on the campus shall not exceed the gross floor area prescribed for the R-5-B District”), and

- (b) DC’s regulatory procedures to implement DC law protecting impacted communities from PUDs, requiring,
“Location of PUD Amenities. Require that a substantial part of the amenities proposed in Planned Unit Developments (PUDs) shall accrue to the community in which the PUD would have an impact” (DC Law 16-300, Policy IM-1.18, 2502.12).²

With respect to the former, during OP’s Campus/Institutional Working Group, OP promised to address “omnibus” PUDs in OP’s PUD Working Group. But, OP failed to do so. With respect to the latter, OP failed to mention this statutory requirement in any of its written presentations on PUDs.

PUDs

Today’s proposal is problematic in multiple ways. In order of presentation versus importance, they include:

- Recommendation 2, p. 4 – The proposed standard 30% density increase for non-residential FAR is excessive. In fact, in its 9/10/10 accompanying document (p. 10), OP admits that 4 of the 10 zones (including SP-2 and C-3-C) would result in increases in available bonus density.
- Recommendation 5, p. 9 – In its 9/10/10 accompanying document (p. 13), OP recognizes the difference between benefits and amenities (“The regulations refer to both ‘benefits’, which should support the neighborhood or city as a whole, and ‘amenities’, which should support project occupants and adjacent neighbors”). In OP’s 5/5/10 Working Group meeting, a third element was mentioned: mitigation measures. However, OP’s incomplete “list” only includes one of the three elements: “public benefits.”
 - The WECA believes that many of the “public benefits” listed are inappropriate since they: (a) are DC’s own responsibilities (e.g., ANC space which DC is required to provide, park maintenance, public alley construction, and public street construction); (b) are already part of a quality project (e.g., block frontage streetscape); or (c) may not accrue to the immediately impacted community (e.g., day care, a transit store)

² Based on various PUD experiences in Foggy Bottom-West End in the 1990’s, working with Ward 2 Councilmember Jack Evans, I proposed protective legislative language for our community. In response, the Ward 2 Plan in the Comprehensive Plan Amendment Act of 1999 provided the following requirement for all PUDs in Ward 2: “A substantial part of the amenities provided in proposed Planned Unit Developments (PUDs) shall accrue to the community in which the PUD would have an impact” (DC Law 12-275, §1327.1(j)). After the Zoning Commission decided not to incorporate Ward Plan language into the zoning rules, in the next Comprehensive Plan cycle, the WECA sought city-wide protective legislative language. In response, the Comprehensive Plan Amendment Act of 2006 widened applicability to the entire City: “Location of PUD Amenities. Require that a substantial part of the amenities proposed in Planned Unit Developments (PUDs) shall accrue to the community in which the PUD would have an impact” (DC Law 16-300, Policy IM-1.18, 2502.12).

- The WECA does not agree with two of the three “standards” in OP’s proposal: (a) “Cannot include monetary contributions” and (b) “Should last for life of the project.” Attached is a 1-page document prepared at the request of a Mayoral appointee to the National Capital Planning Commission entitled, “Examples for Arrington Dixon of PUD Amenities for Foggy Bottom-West End: 6/8/09.” This listing includes monetary contributions – most of which would not last the life of the project but which enhance the area surrounding the project and attract other positive developments – for specific needed amenities in Foggy Bottom-West and other specific amenities to benefit the immediately impacted community.
 - Six of the 18 examples are: $100,000 for prescription drugs for the elderly at St. Mary’s Court; $50,000 for a van for the elderly at St. Mary’s Court; 5,000 s.f. of retail; $500,000 for nutrition for the elderly in ANC-2A; $10,000 for a traffic light for the safety of elderly pedestrians; and $462,000 for augmented services in the West End Library. The bottom line is that the current “negotiated” process for PUD amenities works most of the time and results in more desired and appropriate amenities than any of those on OP’s list.
- Recommendations 9 & 10, pp. 9-10 – Zoning enforcement by the Department of Consumer and Regulatory Affairs’ (DCRA’s) Zoning Administrator too often does not work satisfactorily but for different reasons than those indicated in OP’s PUD documents. As a consequence, the WECA has needed to file multiple Form 300s (“Complaint of Non-Compliance with BZA/ZC Order”) about non-delivery of PUD amenities which were explicitly stated in ZC Commission (ZC) Orders and multiple Appeals of Zoning Administrator-issued Certificates of Occupancy (CofOs). Therefore, instead of relying on DCRA, the WECA believes that the independent Office of Zoning (OZ) needs to assume more responsibility for enforcement of zoning Orders.
 - The WECA objects to a 6-12 months Temporary CofO before the community amenities are delivered; instead, the WECA would like all community amenities to be delivered before issuance of any CofO.
 - The WECA also objects to the post-approval audit by the understaffed DCRA Zoning Administrator and believes that the Office of Zoning should conduct such audits.
 - The WECA believes that the PUD rules should include penalties for enforcement of undelivered amenities which were specifically required in zoning Orders, e.g., daily fines, and CofO revocation. Also, the rules should specify deadlines for Zoning Administrator action on Appeals.

In addition, OP’s PUDs proposal does not present some existing problems and possible solutions for them. For example, what should happen when needed agency analyses (e.g., a Department of Transportation independent traffic analysis) are not prepared, as requested by the Zoning Commission? The WECA believes that the proposed PUD should be delayed until critical DC analyses are in hand and available for cross-examination by the “Parties.”

Summary

The WECA respectfully requests that the Commission ask OP to (a) present and respond to each substantive public comment so that the Commission will have the benefit of understanding the public’s views, and (b) revise its proposal to more fully reflect public comments, including those expressed herein. Thank you for your consideration of our views.

Testimony of Barbara Kahlow on behalf of the WECA
7/12/07 ZC Roundtable regarding the Existing Zoning Regulations (11 DCMR)

I, Barbara Kahlow, am testifying tonight on behalf of the West End Citizens Association (WECA). In the last 1 1/2 years, I have testified on behalf of the WECA in 5 Zoning Commission cases. These include: three George Washington University (GWU) cases -- a proposed 20-year replacement campus plan via an "omnibus" Planned Unit Development (PUD), the School Without Walls PUD, and the Square 54 PUD -- the 2101 L Street PUD, and the 1143 New Hampshire Avenue PUD. My testimony will be based on that experience.

The WECA, founded in the 1890's, is one of the oldest citizens associations in DC. It is primarily interested in maintaining the quality of life for the existing residential community.

Due to testimony time restrictions, I will only make 5 points tonight:

1. Clarification of sequencing for the DC Environmental Policy Act – The revised zoning rules should provide for no Zoning Commission decision until DC has completed its analysis, as required by the "District of Columbia Environmental Policy Act of 1989" (DC Law 8-36, 10/18/1989), of the possible adverse environmental effects of each feasible alternative (i.e., not just the specific application filed with the Zoning Commission) and the identification of commensurate mitigation measures for each feasible alternative.

Federal implementing rules for the companion "National Environmental Policy Act of 1969" (NEPA) state, "Timing. An agency shall commence preparation of an environmental impact statement as close as possible to the time the agency is developing or is presented with a proposal ... The statement shall be prepared early enough so that it can serve practically as an important contribution to the decisionmaking process and will not be used to rationalize or justify decisions already made" and "shall be commenced no later than immediately after the application is received" (40 CFR § 1502.5). DC implementing rules provide, "Agencies, boards, and commissions ... shall integrate ... the Environmental Impact Statement ("EIS) process with other planning processes at the earliest stages of their planning for major actions ... when the widest range of feasible alternatives is open for consideration" (20 DCMR § 7200.2).

2. Clarifications regarding the Building Height Act – The revised zoning rules should address the measurement point for the maximum allowable height under the "Building Height Act of 1910" (6/1/1910) of each loosely connected building in a Square and when, if ever, a closed non-mechanical structure or architectural embellishment is allowed on a roof that meets the maximum height. In the Square 54 PUD case, the Commission approved 122 feet in height at the Southeast corner at 22nd and I Streets even though buildings fronting on either of these streets cannot by law exceed 110 feet. The applicant used the measuring point of an unconnected or loosely connected separate building in the Square. Non-mechanical structures were proposed above the maximum allowable height both in the Square 54 PUD (a 25-foot “outdoor room”) and 1143 New Hampshire PUD cases.

3. Clarification of sequencing with other review agencies – The revised zoning rules both for the Zoning Commission and the Board of Zoning Adjustment (BZA) should specify the required sequencing of reviews by other Federal and DC review agencies, including the DC Historic Preservation Review Board, the Commission on Fine Arts, the National Capital Planning Commission, etc. Confusion has reigned both for Applicants and communities in a great number of cases during the last 30 years in which I have actively participated in many zoning cases.
4. Changes to the PUD regulations – Since they were clearly never intended, the revised zoning rules should prohibit “omnibus” PUDs involving multiple Squares (or setting a maximum of two or three contiguous Squares) and should limit first stage approvals to two years without any time extension discretion by the Commission. In the GWU campus plan case, GWU sought and received approval for a 20-Square PUD with a 20-year first stage approval.
5. Clarification of the minimum level of required public amenities – The revised zoning rules should indicate the minimum level of required public amenities for the immediately impacted community and should clarify when the amenities level formula in 11 DCMR § 2404.7 is required and under what circumstances a lower level is acceptable relative to the requested increase in permitted gross floor area for office use. In fact, if the formula is non-binding, the revised zoning rules should specify a minimally acceptable level of public amenities relative to the requested increase in permitted gross floor area for office use.

The Notice for tonight’s hearing asked witnesses “whether the regulations should be completely overhauled or whether the regulations should be updated.” The WECA believes that updating is essential. Thank you for considering the WECA’s views.
