ANC 3C Resolution 2014-007

Regarding Changes To The Zoning Regulations Affect Side Yard Structures and Tree and Slope Overlay Pursuant to ZC Case No. 08-06A

WHEREAS the Zoning Administrator has determined that the zoning code does not prohibit all accessory structures from being located in front yards; and

WHEREAS the Zoning Regulation Review proposals include a front setback requirement but do not prohibit the placement of accessory structures in front yards and would allow accessory structures within the side yard requirement; and

WHEREAS ANC3C has seen the aesthetic result of locating a mechanical structure in the front yard and on the side lot line and the unintended consequences on the enjoyment of neighboring properties; and

WHEREAS ANC3C has at previous public meetings discussed the need for a definition of a root plate and critical root zone as it applies to applications for construction permits for residential homes; and

WHEREAS ANC3C has experienced the detrimental effects of the lack of definition of minimal standard and has requested that Urban Forestry Administration be consulted by the Zoning Administration

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that ANC3C urges the Zoning Commission to prohibit accessory structures in the front yards and within the side yard allowance in all single family home residential zones; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chair, Commissioner MacWood, or their designee is authorized to represent the Commission on this issue.
