Advising: Research or Clinical

This refers to students whose projects the faculty has supervised as adviser, committee chair, or committee member (indicate role). The name of student, academic year(s) involved, and the name of institution if other than UMD should be indicated, as well as placement of the student(s), if the project is completed. List completed work first.

Master's

Kayla Hyatt

2014-Present. UMD/MIAEH MPH Student. My role: Primary Advisor. I have provided her with mentoring on applying for scholarships and fellowships including the USEPA STAR fellowship and applying for PhD programs.

Sharon Hartzell

2015-2016t. MS Student in Environmental Science and Technology. Advisor: Yonkos. My role: Committee member. I am a member of Sharon's Committee. Her project is entitled: Quantifying contaminants in Baltimore Harbor sediment: Validation of novel analytical techniques and implications for risk assessment.

Meleah Boyle

2013-Present. UMD MPH graduate in 2014. 2013-Summer 2014: Meleah was a MIAEH MPH Student. My role: I was on her MPH committee. I provided her with guidance on a project assessing potential public health impacts of hydraulic fracturing in the state of Maryland. I mentored her in how to perform community engagement, lead town hall meetings, and perform focus groups. I also was on Meleah's MPH committee. In her project, she assessed exposure to noise from compressor stations in West Virginia using community-engaged research approach. I mentored her performing community-engaged exposure assessment. Meleah is a co-author with me on 1 peer-reviewed conference presentation and a co-author on four papers in progress on fracking.

Sarah Pomerantz

2013-2015. BCH MPH Graduate. Advisor: Aldoory. My role: Committee Member. I am on Sarah's MPH committee. She is in Community Health at UMD. Sarah has assisted me with managing CEEJH activities including helping with the 2014 Symposium on Environmental Justice and Environmental Health Disparities in Maryland and Washington, DC. Her MPH project is entitled: "Health-Related Information Behaviors of Environmental Action Gatekeepers: A Qualitative Study".

Leah Baskin

2013-2015. UMD/MIAEH MPH graduate. My role: I was Leah's MPH Advisor. I advised her on work with a local food justice coalition in Prince George's County. She moved from working with NIH to FDA. I mentored Leah during her Capstone project entitled: Potential Public Health Impacts of a Chicken Processing Plant In Delaware. I mentored Leah in performing community-engaged research. She is a co-author with me on a paper on environmental justice issues and industrial animal production.

Jon Washington

2013-2014. UMD MPH Student. My role: Primary Advisor.

Rebecca Braun

2012-2013: My role: I was a member of Ms. Braun's MPH committee. Her project was entitled: Alcohol exposure in preterm infants in neonatal isolette. She finished her MPH at MIAEH in 2013. She works as an environmental consultant.

Allyson Bailey

2011-2012: My role: Internship Site Advisor and Capstone committee member. I worked with Allyson as part of her internship placement with CEEJH. She assisted with program planning, STEM outreach, and development of an environmental justice and health disparities symposium in the state of Maryland. I also was on her MPH committee. She developed a Photovoice manual to address food justice issues as a product of her internship. She received her MPH from UMD-College Park in 2012. She is now Youth Opportunities Coordinator for City of Boulder, CO.

Emily Heinlein 2011-2012: My role: Capstone committee member. I worked with Emily as part of her capstone experience as an MPH student in the department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics in the University of Maryland-School of Medicine. She developed an environmental justice and health curriculum for high school students in the state of Maryland. She received her MPH in 2012. She now works in the Baltimore Medical System.

Rebecca Rehr 2012-Present. UMD/MIAEH Graduate in 2012 with MPH in Environmental Health Sciences. My role: Primary advisor. I was Ms. Rehr's MPH advisor, internship supervisor, and capstone director. I provided mentoring to Ms. Rehr on environmental justice and health research and policy. Ms. Rehr has presented at conferences and published papers with me including 2 peer-reviewed publications (one as primary author) and 5 peer-reviewed conference presentations. She completed an ASPPH/EPA Fellowship in 2013. She has worked with me as staff for the annual Symposium on Environmental Justice and Environmental Health Disparities Symposium in Maryland and Washington, DC. In her time at MEHN, we have collaborated on EJ and health problems in Baltimore and Prince Georges County, MD, worked together in the DMV EJ Coalition, and helped to revise a cumulative impacts bill.

Doctoral
Rianna Murray

2012-Present. UMD Doctoral Student. My role: Primary Advisor and Chair of Examination Committee. I advised Rianna during her MPH. She has worked with me on several research projects related to environmental justice and health issues in the Anacostia River region. She has presented at conferences and published papers as an advisee. She received her MPH in 2013. She is currently a PhD student on my team. I was the supervisor for her internship program. I was the Chair of her MPH committee. Rianna has been a co-author on 10 peer-reviewed conference presentations and a co-author on 6 peer-reviewed papers (one as primary author) with me. She has received several awards including APHA Student Travel Award, Dean's Fellowship, UMD Green Fund Fellowship; Delta Omega Inductee, GRID Poster Winner, and an UMD Travel Scholarship Award, 2016 Wait Family Graduate Scholarship Winner.

Kristen Burwell 2009-Present. UMD Doctoral Candidate. My role: Dissertation Advisor and Chair of her committee. I advised Kristen as a PhD student at the University of South Carolina and University of Maryland. She has worked with me on NIH funded projects in South Carolina including a research to action project with the Low Country Alliance for Model Communities in North Charleston, SC. She is a co-author on over 30 peer-reviewed conference presentations including the annual APHA conference with me and also a co-author with me on 10 peer-reviewed publications (several as corresponding author and one as the primary author). I am the Chair of her PhD committee. She is developing and testing a new cumulative stressors index for populations impacted by environmental injustice and environmental health disparities. She has won several awards including the UMD Writing Fellow; APHA Travel Scholarship; UMD Conference Travel Award; and an UMD Doctoral Summer Fellowship (2015).

LaShanta Rice

2009-2014. USC PhD Graduate in 2014. Advisor: Brandt. My role Committee Member. LaShanta began working with me as a project coordinator on a NIEHS funded CBPR project with the Low Country Alliance for Model Communities in South Carolina (S Wilson-PI). She transitioned to become a research assistant. She has worked on several projects on environmental justice and environmental health disparities in South Carolina. She is a co-author on over 20 peer-reviewed conference presentations and a co-author on 7 peer-reviewed publications (2 as primary author) with me. She was also an APHA Environment Section Student Poster Award winner. I was also her EPA STAR Fellowship Advisor of Record and I was on her PhD committee. Her project was entitled: Elucidating Perceived And Actual Cancer Risk In Disadvantaged Neighborhoods Differentially Impacted By Environmental Hazards To Inform Future Public Health Interventions.

Post-doctoral
Chengsheng
Jiang

2011-2013. My role: Postdoctoral Advisor. Dr. Jiang worked with me as a postdoc for more than one year on environmental justice and health projects in Maryland and South Carolina. He has assisted on GIS mapping efforts in South Carolina, the Washington, DC region, and the nation. He worked with me on the development of EJRADAR, a PPGIS mapping tool for residents in South Carolina. Dr. Jiang is a co-author on 8 peer-reviewed publications with me and a co-author on nearly 25 peer-reviewed conference presentations with me. Due to his scholarship, he was promoted to research assistant professor in 2013.

Other Research Directions (K-12 Interactions)

Ben Grimes

Summer 2015. Poolesville High School Student. My role: Internship advisor. Mr. Grimes worked on several projects including helping with pilot testing GIS mapping tools, using EJSCREEN for two health impact assessments (HIAs), and assisting with a subsistence fishing study focused on the Anacostia and Potomac Rivers.

Neha Soni

2013-2015. UMD Math major. My role: Internship Advisor. I mentored Ms. Soni during her time working as an intern with Elise Tolbert, an undergraduate summer intern (UMSTARS program) with the CEEJH program. She was at the time a Poolesville HS student. She worked with me on projects related to Anacostia water quality problems. She presented a poster and report for her global senior project. Since then, I have provided with informal guidance and educational development support.

Mentorship

Junior Faculty
Chengsheng
Jiang

2013-Present. Research Assistant Professor, UMD. My role: informal mentor, assist with proposal development, career development and manuscripts.

Advising: Other than Research Direction

Undergraduate

Vivek
Ravichandran

Present. Department: Public Health Sciences Degree Program. My role: Internship Advisor. Vivek is a student in my MIEH300 summer course. He is also working with me as a summer intern. Vivek is helping with air pollution monitoring in the Sheriff Road area and Brandywine, MD. He is also assisting with a HIA on the Dominion LNG terminal in Lusby, MD. He is also working on a project to assess environmental injustice in Washington, DC using EJSCREEN. He is also assisting with several manuscripts including a paper on the distribution of food pathogens in South Carolina.

Ashley
Shakia
Aleeyah
Michaela
Maureen
Camilla
Chelsea
Audrey Vogel

Lindsay Gray

Summer 2016. Department: Public Health Sciences Degree Program. My role: Internship Advisor. Lindsay was a student in my MIEH300 course. She is currently working as an intern on a health assessment of environmental hazards for the Ports Town Partnership. She is also performing a health impact assessment of the proposed Dominion LNG terminal in Lusby, MD. She is assisting with community engagement efforts in Brandywine. She is also working on research manuscripts.

Lindsey Wright

Summer 2016-Present. Department: Environmental Science and Technology. My role: Internship Advisor. Lindsey is working as a summer intern. She is assisting on a health assessment of environmental hazards for the Ports Town partnership. She is also assisting monitoring particulate matter levels in the Sheriff Road area of Prince Georges County and the Brandywine Community. She is also assisting with developing and revising manuscripts including a paper on environmental justice and community resiliency, a paper on soil contamination in Charleston, SC, and a literature review on environmental justice and community engagement.

- Bria White Summer 2016. Department: Public Health Sciences Degree Program. Bria was a student in my MIEH300 course. She is assisting with community engagement efforts to build a grassroots environmental justice movement in Prince Georges County, MD and the state of Maryland. She is also assisting with monitoring efforts in the Sheriff Rd area which is a continuation of her group project in MIEH330. She also helping with manuscript development.
- Rachel Forman Summer 2016. Department: Behavioral and Community Health. My role: Internship Advisor. Rachel Forman is assisting as a part-time intern on research papers including a paper on soil contamination in Charleston, SC and industrial chicken farming in Maryland. Rachel is also assisting with grant proposal development.
- Christian Jenkins Spring 2014-Summer 2016. Department: Environmental Science and Policy. My role: Project Advisor. I first worked with Christian on a HIA assessing the potential public health impacts of fracking in Western MD. Christian has been working with me on developing a manuscript on soil contamination in Charleston, SC.
- Natalie Agee Summer 2015: Department: Environmental Science and Policy. My role: Internship Advisor. Natalie is a summer intern with me. She has assisted with field data collection for a subsistence fishing project focused on the Anacostia and Potomac Rivers, worked on two health impact assessments, helped with two manuscripts on fracking, assisted with my Latino Environmental Health Engagement Project, and worked on two papers for publication on soil contamination in Charleston, SC.
- Aaron Aber Summer 2015-Spring 2016 Department: Environmental Science and Policy. My role: Internship Advisor and Apprenticeship Advisor. Aaron worked as a summer intern with me through the National Socio-Environmental Synthesis Center (SESYNC) Summer Internship Program and also worked with me as part of a research apprenticeship. He has worked on my Latino Environmental Health Engagement Project, worked on a project assessing cultural issues associated with fishing on the Anacostia, helped with two manuscripts on fracking, assisted on two health impact assessments, contributed to manuscripts on cumulative risk, soil contamination in Charleston, SC, segregation and cancer risk disparities in South Carolina, and worked on a paper related to being both overburdened by brownfields and underserved by health care infrastructure in Maryland. He also has worked on a chapter for a book on environmental justice and community engagement. Due to his environmental justice and health research, Aaron won a UMD 2016 Undergraduate Researcher of the Year Award.
- Lionel Wilson Summer 2015: Department: Environmental Science and Policy. My role: Internship Advisor. Lionel is a summer intern with me. He has worked on two manuscripts related to industrial animal production in Maryland and South Carolina, and assisted in the development of two health impact assessments (HIAs).
- Kamil Williams Fall 2014: Major: Government and Politics; interned in Fall 2014. My role: Internship Advisor. Worked on CEEJH projects including the annual CEEJH Environmental Justice Symposium.

- Carly Brody Summer 2014-2015. Department: Environmental Science and Policy. My role: Internship Advisor. Carly was a summer intern with me through the National Socio-Environmental Synthesis Center (SESYNC) Summer Internship Program. She assisted with implementation of a survey to collect data on exposure and health risks for individuals who recreate on the Anacostia River. She assisted in Recreational Fishing Days related to subsistence fishing on the Anacostia. She also assisted with the CEEJH EJ Symposium and is a co-author on a peer-reviewed publication on environmental justice and industrial animal production.
- Pradnya Bhandari Spring 2014-Fall 2014. Department: Environmental Science and Technology. My role: Internship Advisor, interning with me on CEEJH projects and helped with the public health impacts of fracking report.
- Elise Tolbert Summer 2012-Present. Summer 2012 and Summer 2013: UMSTAR Program; Student at Tuskegee University; My Role: Internship Advisor. I was the advisor for Ms. Tolbert, undergraduate student at Tuskegee University, during her participating in the UM STARS summer internship program for two summers. I mentored her on performing environmental justice and health research in the Anacostia River Region. She received her BS in 2012. She received her MPH from the University of Michigan in 2015. I provided career development mentoring to Elise. She will be an ASPPH EPA Fellow in Fall 2016.
- Shaffa Mendscole Summer 2013. UMSTAR Program; Student at Tuskegee University; Worked on Project CAESARR; performed research on fish exchange program concept.
- Udochi Ohiri 2012-2013. UMD-Baltimore County Public Health graduate. Worked as research intern; student at University of Maryland-Baltimore County; worked on projects related to the Anacostia River and also assisted with research projects in South Carolina. She assisted with other CEEJH activities. She was a co-author on 3 peer-reviewed conference presentations and a co-author on several submitted manuscripts.
- Jamilah Giles 2010-2014: USC MPH graduate. Ms. Giles participated in an environmental justice and health internship program that I ran at USC as an undergraduate student. She has worked on a NIEHS-funded CBPR project in Charleston, SC. She has presented at conferences and is a co-author on papers. She currently is a MPH student at the USC School of Public Health.
- Lesley Joseph 2007-Present: Engineering undergraduate student at the University of South Carolina; I mentored Mr. Joseph on environmental justice and sustainability issues with a focus on climate change and African-Americans. He presented his research at conferences including APHA and is a co-author on several manuscripts (one published and 2 revise and resubmit requests). He was also co-author with me on 2 peer-reviewed conference presentations. He received his BS in 2011; he received APHA Environment Section Student Award; graduate student at Johns Hopkins University.

Master's

Juliet Perez	2015-2016. UMD/MIAEH MPH Student. My role: informal mentor. 2015-Present. I have provided Juliet on guidance on securing her internship and developing her Capstone project. I am working with her with a team of advocates on engaging the Latino community in the Washington, DC region on environmental health and justice issues.
Allison Gost	2015-Present. UMD/MIAEH MPH Student. Advisor: Puett. My role: informal mentor. 2015-Present. I have provided Allison guidance on performing community-engaged research related to industrial animal production particularly chicken farming in the Eastern Shore of Maryland. I have helped her with engaging residents and advocates in the Eastern Shore. I am also advising her on expanding a health impact assessment of a chicken waste incinerator in the Eastern Shore and also will help co-advise her during her internship experience on poultry farming.
Matt Dernoga	2013-2014. MS in Policy from UMD. I have advised Mr. Dernoga on policy research related to disparities in allocation of Clean Water Act resources and watershed restoration grants in the state of Maryland. He is a co-author with me on 1 peer-reviewed publication (he is the primary author).
Shabda Bhujad	2009-2010. USC MS graduate. My role: Research Advisor on research assistantship. I provided mentoring to Shabda as part of a research assistantship. She received her Master's in Human Resources from Moore School of Business, University of South Carolina in 2010. She is a Business Intelligence Analyst at Pure Fishing.
Rahnuma Hassan	2009-2010. USC MSPH graduate. My role: Research advisor on research assistantship. I provided mentoring to Rahnuma as part of a research assistantship on a secondary data analysis project at USC School of Public Health. She was a co-author with me on 2 peer-reviewed conference presentations. She works at Palmetto GBA.
Muhammad Salaam	2007-2009. US MPH Graduate. My role: Research advisor for his research assistantship. I mentored Muhammad on environmental justice and health research. He was a research assistant on a NIEHS-funded CBPR project in Charleston, SC. He presented this work at several conferences (7 peer-reviewed). He received his MPH in 2009. He works at the South Carolina Budget and Control Board as a statistician.\
Lawrence Reid	2006-2007. UMich MPH Graduate. Lawrence was a research assistant on one of my projects while I was a postdoc at the University of Michigan. He finished his MPH in 2007. Lawrence is now a PhD Student at Bloomberg School of Public Health, Johns Hopkins University.
Doctoral Mary Randolph	2015-Present. MIAEH PhD Student. Advisor: Sapkota. My role: Informal Mentor. I have mentored Mary on the development of her USEPA STAR Fellowship application.

Hillary Craddock	2015-Present. MIAEH PhD Student. Advisor: Turner. My role: Informal Mentor. I have mentored Hillary on the development of her USEPA STAR Fellowship application.
Paul Jacob de Buena de Mesquita	2014-Present. MIAEH PhD Student. Advisor: Milton. My role: Informal Mentor. I have mentored Jake in navigating the PhD program at UMD. I have advised him in developing a manuscript for publication. I have also advised him on the development of a USEPA STAR Fellowship application.
Dayna Campbell	2008-Present: USC Doctoral Candidate. My role: Research Advisor. I have worked with Dayna on several environmental justice and health partnerships including NIEHS and NIMHD funded projects in South Carolina. She has worked as a program coordinator on projects and helped with partnerships with the Institute for Partnerships to Eliminate Health Disparities. She is a co-author with me on 3 peer-reviewed publication and 20 peer-reviewed conference presentations.
Winston Abara	2010-2014. USC Doctoral Student. My role: Research Advisor for research assistantship. I mentored Winston on how to perform environmental justice and health research. He worked as a graduate assistant on a NIEHS-funded project to assess long-term impacts from a train derailment and chlorine disaster in Graniteville, SC. He is a co-author with me on peer-reviewed manuscripts (3 total) and co-author on 2 peer-reviewed conference presentations with me. He received his PhD in 2011 from USC. He is now a Leadership Fellow, Satcher Health Leadership Institute, Morehouse School of Medicine.
Jennifer Davis	2008-2013. USC Doctoral Student. My role: Informal Mentor. I mentored Ms. Davis on environmental justice, vulnerability, and disasters. She published a paper on this topic. She received her PhD in 2011. Dr. Davis is a co-author with me on 1 peer-reviewed publication (she is the primary author) and co-author with me on 2 peer-reviewed conference presentations.
Kasim Ortiz	2010-2012. USC Doctoral Student. My role: informal mentoring on research projects. I provided mentoring to Mr. Ortiz on environmental justice and health issues.
