

Examples of Mixed-Use buildings with dog day cares

Mixed-Use high-rise in downtown Seattle, WA

The Olivian Seattle, WA

Apartments above dog day care. No noise or odor complaints have been reported.

Storefront appealing to the eye on the ground floor.

Storefront in the evening hours

Opening doors to the future™

Podium mixed-use building in Dallas, TX

Apartments above dog day care. No noise or odor complaints have been reported.

Storefront appealing to the eye on the ground floor.

Storefront from the sidewalk

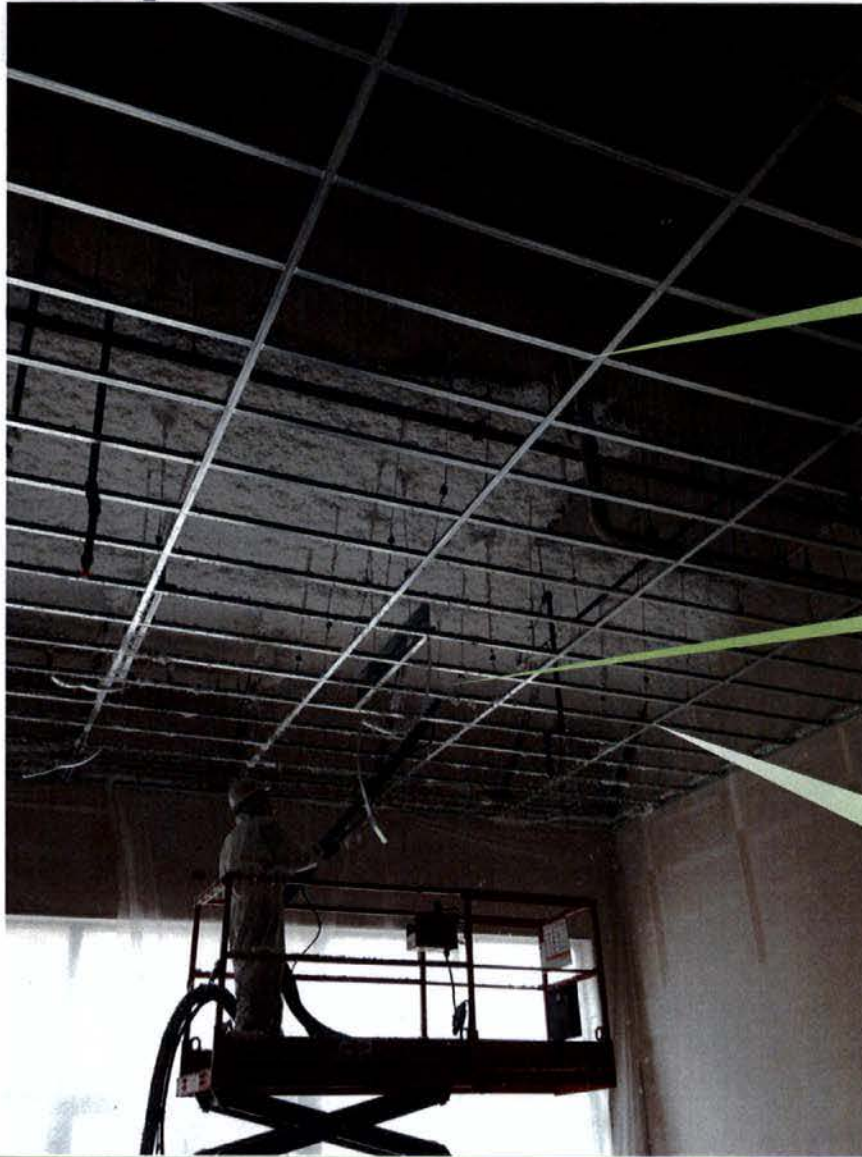

Savoye in Vitruvian Park

Opening doors to the future™

Examples of noise attenuation procedures

Penetrations made by any piping in the concrete slab are caulked and sealed to prevent sound leaks.

Spray on coat of noise insulation being installed.

Installation of an acoustical gypsum board ceiling suspended from the underside of the existing PT concrete slab from isolation hangers.

Examples of noise attenuation procedures

Additional fiberglass insulation in suspended ceiling installed.

Acoustical drywall soundboard installed.

Opening doors to the future™

Examples of noise attenuation procedures

Installation of finished ceiling with acoustical ceiling panels rated for Noise Reduction Coefficient.

Wall panels such as 2" MBI ColorSonix mounted directly to the walls.

Opening doors to the future™