Dear Commissioner,

I am opposed to "downzoning" in DC and believe that these efforts are an overreaction to a few cases of unsightly building modification.

I have lived in a condo in Kalorama Triangle for the past decade and have seen many single family row houses converted to multi-units in my neighborhood. I believe that such conversions are handled responsibly, maintain the historic frontage and offer a needed supply of housing. Moreover, as someone who is interested in energy conservation I believe that these compact homes are for the greater good.
