

Opposed to zoning change.

the change in height is far greater than surrounding buildings and out of character for the neighborhood. This is a spot zoning change, which is or should be illegal. It is designed not for benefit of the communities thru increased amenities etc, but rather that enable the developer and also the dc government to extract additional profit.

the site is very redevelopable without additional zoning density needed, certainly not any height density.

Submitted on 6/22/2023 by:

David Jasinski

1608 Q St NW