I am a long time resident of Washington DC. I am writing to express my opposition to giving private developers building rights to what is now public land. My children and now grandchildren have made use of this property to play games, read books borrowed from the library and eat treats from the local Safeway. While I understand the desire to increase housing, I also appreciate the value of places that can accommodate the activities of all children, teens and adults who live nearby or pass through this park on their way to other destinations.
