Dear Zoning Commission -

In the recent election we saw housing rise as a priority for the electorate. However, this is not only a national issue, it is a major issue in DC. As a resident of the District, I would like to see my neighbors have access to housing that is not excessively priced due to scarce demand, that allows people to live close to where they work, and that does not force people to the streets due to lack of affordability. That is why I support 24-15, and encourage you to move forward with it. While it will not relieve the national
