To whom it my concern,

I strongly oppose the proposal for 90' light poles at Stuart Hobson Middle School.

The middle school has had multiple problems with the so-called athletic fields for years.

Among the problems are misuse of the field which attracts social-based loud noise, after school hours, and illegal parking in "zone 6 only" parking spaces, surrounding the school.

The so-called athletic field is not built to regulation size for DCPS sports, so it is already mis-matched for regulation events.

Additionally, light poles would add to the building's misuse of building lights that shine into the close-built neighborhood, 24 hours a day.

The school is in an historic district with narrow streets and residents who are affected, up close and personal, by everything that happens on the school grounds.

I have lived next to the school about 45 years, and my children received a good education while attending SHMS, and I support multiple neighborhood activities. However, I definately do NOT WANT any 90' light poles!

Sincerely,

Judith Soble
