Dear Mr. Williams:

May I register my opposition to any development above 3 stories on Cleveland Park.

I was born here in 1947 and returned here in 1980. The skyline has remained just about the same, a human, livable, city neighborhood. Contrast this with the hideous Van Ness, or the godawful upper Wisconsin Ave.

Just as we needed a neighborhood food market, so we need street-level, affordable services, not upscale growth that will price us out of ~~zone~~ homes. This is our home.

An overpriced mega-development would displace stable home- and condo-owners for an anonymous transient population.

Proper development, such as replacing deteriorating structures with 2- or 3-story buildings in keeping with the Cleveland Park Historic District, are what is called for.

Sincerely,
Marcia B. Kass
