Dear Mr. Williams:

The current crisis surrounding the possible move of Safeway out of Cleveland Park in northwest Washington, highlights the need to have zoning protection for neighborhood stores.

I support all efforts to stop major development in our Washington neighborhoods. This is what makes Washington, D.C., a livable city -- we have neighborhoods and stores to support them! You can't buy groceries or get your shoes fixed in a 10-story office building! Please strongly support this effort!
