Mr. Griffin's most recent professional achievements include obtaining a judgment of acquittal for a Firm client facing multiple felony charges, successfully piercing the corporate veil of a D.C. based L.L.C. in

Board of Zoning Adjustment
District of Columbia
CASE NO.19593

order to hold the principal member liable for breach of contract and other claims, and defeating an insurer's claim for indemnification from a Firm client at minimal cost to our client.

Prior to co-founding Griffin Whitaker LLC, Mr. Griffin was a litigator at the Washington, D.C., offices of Paul, Hastings, Janofsky & Walker, L.L.P. As an attorney at Paul Hastings, Mr. Griffin represented corporations and individuals in criminal investigations of alleged business crimes and civil fraud, including internal investigations, S.E.C. investigations and regulatory matters and federal criminal trials. He advised clients on the attitudes and positions of policy makers in administrative agencies and the executive branch on issues relating to Iraqi reconstruction. He also represented corporations involved in more traditional commercial litigation. In addition, he volunteered and successfully resolved pro bono immigration matters under the Violence Against Women Act. Prior to working for Paul Hastings, Mr. Griffin worked for the D.C. law firms Spriggs & Hollingsworth and McKenna & Cuneo (now McKenna, Long & Aldridge).

Mr. Griffin's publications, include SEC Broker-Dealer Record Retention Requirements: Costly, Cumbersome and a Threat to Privileges - PHJW Client Alert (April, 2005) (with Kirby D. Behre, Jeremy Evans and Rebecca Snyder), and The New Iraq: Revising Iraq's Commercial Law is a Necessity for Foreign Direct Investment and the Reconstruction of Iraq's Decimated Economy, 11 Cardozo J. of Int'l & Comp. L. 875 (Spring 2004) (with Judith Richards Hope).
