

Ms. Yvonne Johnson – Feb. 23 Testimony
Case No. 14-18A

- I have lived in the community for many years and was a teacher for many years
- Displacement Tactics by Mid-City
  - Causes stress for families and children
  - Environment of fear and apathy on the property because of displacement tactics
- Tenants have received mixed messages from Mid-City
- Why eliminate family-sized housing from the redevelopment, and why eliminate more affordable housing in DC?
  - We have children who grew up here
  - Many seniors want to live with their families and are taking care of grandchildren
  - Where will we go?
- McDuffie should support his constituents
- Our demand as tenants is to preserve 535 units of affordable housing at the same bedroom sizes and subsidy levels
  - This is very reasonable of us, when actually we should be asking for more affordable housing than what already exists, since they are tripling density
  - We would like to work with Mid-City Financial to come up with a development agreement that does not leave families out in the cold
